

'Unidentified Objects' Reported In Jersey

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first in a series of articles on unidentified flying objects and the story of Howard Menger, High Bridge, N. J., man who claims to have seen and talked with craft from outer space.)

By Leonard Randolph
AN OBSCURE, quiet-mannered High Bridge N. J., sign painter is rapidly becoming the center of the seething controversy over "Unidentified Flying Objects."

Irreverently called "flying saucers" by most newspapers and magazines, the UFO during recent years has become something nearly approaching a national movement.

More articles have been written about UFO than any other phenomenon since Halley's Comet. Thousands of men and women have filed UFO reports with the Air Force and the Pentagon in Washington. The number of sightings has become so numerous that the Pentagon now has a standard, information sheet which is sent to all persons who have seen an unidentified object in the air. Over the past few years enough information (and misinformation) on UFO has been collected to stagger the imagination of the most dedicated research scientist.

Many of the sightings have been brief and lacking in detail. Only a very few have been comprehensive in their reports. In Monroe County alone there have been dozens of UFO "sightings" during the past five years—but all of them have been observed from a distance and none has been long on concrete information.

This is not true with Howard Menger, 34, of High Bridge.

Menger has not only seen "space craft" flying in the air he has also (1) seen them land on his own property, (2) talked with people from outer space, (3) been selected by them to "tell the people of the Earth the truth" about the space visitors and (4) been taken for a ride in a space craft closely resembling a glowing ball.

He has also taken photographs of the craft he has seen. For Menger's evidence of this, see the photos accompanying this article.

Menger's association with the space craft began in this way: "At 1:30 in the morning on August 4 I received two telephonic messages to go to a spot about a half mile from my house to the north and a half mile from Route 69 (the highway runs directly to the front of Menger's sign-painting shop and home in High Bridge). I left the house alone. My wife was sleeping.

"As I approached the spot I saw a glowing shape. I was not afraid. They had taken all the fear out of me."

Menger's description of the "they" to which he often refers is a glowing, optimistic and idealistic one. In the first place, "They" do not come from just one planet. "They" are from many planets in the universe.

"They" are dedicated almost solely to a universal peace and brotherly love, he tells his listeners. All of his contacts with the people from the space craft have been heavily centered on the theme of universal peace.

On August 4, Menger says, he walked to the space craft; stopped at a distance of about 75 feet from it. The ship was bright with varied, multi-colored, throbbing lights. As he came closer to the craft, three people stepped from it and approached him. One of the three left the others and walked to meet Menger.

Menger describes the man's costume this way: It was a one-piece suit, complete with wide belt with rough silvery knobs on it and with no visible zippers or buttons; it was somewhat similar to a "ski suit" in style and the neck of the suit resembled a turtle neck sweater slightly.

The man who walked toward Menger had long, fluttering blond hair. When he began to speak to Menger it was in English and in a "deep, beautiful voice."

"He called me 'Howard'. He said he had come to see me and tell me about his way of life on other planets," Menger recalls.

When the talk was ended, the three men went back into the space craft. The ship ascended, hovering in mid-air for a few moments so Menger could take another clear picture with the Polaroid camera he has used in all of his contacts with the crafts.

Out of that initial contact with the space craft, Menger says that he has emerged with a growing concern that men and women on earth understand the purpose of these visits from space. He says he also is compelled now to clear up "distortions" which he says have been made in the re-telling of his original statements.

In his own words, then, let Menger relate his personal feelings about the men from space and their mission on Earth—a mission which he feels with apparently fervent faith has been made his own, also:

"These people stress above anything else that we should live the laws, the universal laws of our Creator as we were intended to do in the beginning—that we are their brothers and sisters. Some of these people from other planets are actually living among us, here on earth, appearing just like ordinary people and dressing and acting just as we do.

"They do this as a service to our Creator to help us reach a higher understanding of universal life. Hundreds of receptive people on the right plane of evolution of the physical and spiritual have been and are being contacted by them."

Both Menger and his wife eagerly discount the assumption that they are any "better" than anyone else. They both feel, since contact has been made between themselves and the ships, that they have become better persons spiritually and mentally

Strange Craft Sighted Over Tobyhanna

TOBYHANNA—One of the most precise descriptions yet given of an "Unidentified Flying Object" was relayed last night to The Daily Record by a civilian employe of the Tobyhanna Signal Depot.

Robert J. Stein of Wilkes-Barre reports that on Monday, Oct. 29, he and three other men sighted a "long, cigar-shaped body" roughly resembling a Liberator bomber in general shape. The day was bright and sunny. It was mid-afternoon.

Poland's Minister Of Defense Quits

WARSAW, Nov. 13 (AP)—Poland's Premier told Parliament today that Marshal Konstantin Rokossovsky has resigned as defense minister and deputy premier. The Soviet war hero came to power as chief of Poland's armed forces on Stalin's orders in 1949.

The Warsaw-born, Soviet-trained marshal had long been regarded as Moscow's chief representative in the Polish leadership. He was ousted from the Polish Communist party Politburo on Oct. 21.

Ever since that date he has been officially announced as "on leave." His removal has been expected.

Appointment

Premier Josef Cyrankiewicz said Gen. Marian Spychalski today had been appointed in Rokossovsky's place.

Spychalski was arrested while Stalin was still alive in 1950. He suffered much the same fate as Wladislaw Gomulka, now first secretary of the Polish Communist party's Central Committee.

Spychalski was released early this year. On Oct. 23 he was made deputy defense minister.

The ouster of Rokossovsky from the crucial defense post and the naming of Spychalski were logical developments in the shakeup that has submerged Stalinist elements in Poland and loosened the country's ties with Moscow.

Queen Of Greece Near Death

CANNES, France, Nov. 13 (AP)—Doctors at the Meriden Clinic said ex-Queen Elizabeth of Greece was near death today and they had "no more hope" to save her. The ex-Queen, 72, has been in the clinic since July with a heart ailment.

Related to practically every member of European royalty, she and the former King George II of Greece were divorced in 1935.

Four Tanks Explode

MAVSVILLE, Ky., Nov. 13 (AP)—Four gasoline tanks, each with 12,000 gallon capacity, exploded at a Texaco bulk plant, setting off a fire that raged out of control for six hours early today.

U.S. Shrimp Boat Captain Suffers Wounds

TAMPICO, Mexico, Nov. 13 (AP)—A Texas shrimp boat captain wounded by rifle fire from a Mexican cutter was brought to a hospital here late today.

The victim, Tom Wilson, skipper of the shrimpers Pescadora, is not in a critical condition, U. S. Consul George D. Whittinghill said.

The Pescadora was intercepted and fired upon by the Mexican cutter G28 off Mexico's coast last night.

Silent Crowd

A silent crowd of about 50 persons saw the C28, a Coast Guard cutter, escort Wilson's boat into port here.

A waiting ambulance rushed him to the hospital. The crowd included Wilson's wife and sister-in-law. They were flown here from Texas.

A port authority spokesman said the Pescadora was not under military detention. However, several soldiers guarded it at dockside.

Vice Adm. Cuauhtemoc Perez Zavala, chief of Mexico's 1st naval zone, and Capt. Miguel Angel Escamilla of the G28 declined to give any information on this latest shooting incident involving American shrimp fishermen and Mexico's navy.

The shooting was reported to have occurred at 10:30 Monday about 80 miles north of here.

A crew member of the Mexican cutter gave this version:

Five foreign fishing boats, all apparently from Texas, were sighted yesterday afternoon fishing in Mexican waters. They were warned they were too close to shore.

Later the cutter saw another group of shrimpers, among them the Pescadora. The order was repeated but the Pescadora did not reply.

The cutter then tried to seize the Pescadora but it fled. A chase of several hours followed.

Chase

The cutter fired during the chase. The cutter was notified that Wilson had been shot, and the Pescadora's crew asked permission for him to return to the United States.

Escamilla agreed and radioed for a plane from Port Isabel or Galveston to pick up the wounded man.

No plane arrived within three hours, and Wilson asked to be taken to Tampico.

Whittinghill said Escamilla would not make a statement on the incident. He told the consul he must consult first with Mexican officials.

Whittinghill said it had not been determined whether Wilson would undergo an operation. Earlier reports received here by radio said Wilson had been shot twice, once near the kidney.

Feeling has been running strong among both U.S. and Mexican fishing boat operators over disputed waters in the Gulf of Mexico.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13 (AP)—Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, retiring supreme commander of Allied forces in Europe, today was named president of the American Red Cross, effective Jan. 1.

Supreme Court Halts Bus Segregation

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13 (AP)—The Supreme Court today wiped out state and local laws requiring segregation on buses.

It did so by affirming a decision of a special three-judge U. S. district court in Montgomery, Ala. That court ruled that enforced segregation of whites and Negroes on Montgomery buses violated the Federal Constitution's guarantees of due process and equal protection of law.

In a brief unanimous order, the Supreme Court cited its 1954 decision against segregation in public schools. It also cited subsequent decisions outlawing segregation in public parks and playgrounds and on public golf links.

Without Argument

As it has done in several segregation cases since its basic school decision, the high court acted without listening to any argument.

Except for citing three segregation-banning decisions, all the court said was:

"The motion to affirm is granted and the judgment is affirmed." Negroes in Montgomery have conducted a long boycott of city buses as a protest against segregation. One of the things they resorted to was operation of a car pool to carry those who used to use the buses.

A state court at Montgomery is now considering the city's attempt to halt the car pool as illegal. The court continued its hearing today after being informed of the Supreme Court ruling.

In neighboring Mississippi, Gov. J. P. Coleman said his state would continue to segregate Negroes and whites on public conveyances, despite the Supreme Court order.

"Our attitude about the decision will be the same as about the school segregation cases," Coleman said. Mississippi's public schools, like many others in the South, are still segregated.

In another action today, the court refused to review the trial and conviction of Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard, Cleveland osteopath for the bludgeoning slaying of his wife.

Convicted

Dr. Sheppard was convicted of slaying his pregnant wife, Marilyn, 30, in their Bay Village, Ohio, home in July 1954. He received a life sentence. This was affirmed by the Ohio Supreme Court last May.

Dr. Sheppard contended he was denied a fair trial because of adverse publicity. The Ohio Supreme Court rejected this claim.

In the bus segregation case, Montgomery's board of commissioners and the Alabama Public Service Commission appealed from the ruling of the three-judge court voiding state and local bus segregation laws.

The lower court, dividing 2-1, said "there is now no rational basis upon which the separate but equal doctrine can be validly applied to public transportation within the city of Montgomery." And it said "the application of that doctrine cannot be justified as a proper execution of state police power."

The two judges in the majority said they agreed with a decision of the 4th U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Richmond that "the separate but equal doctrine can no longer be safely followed as a correct statement of the law."

The separate but equal doctrine, now dead for all practical purposes, was laid down by the Supreme Court in a transportation case in 1896 known as Plessy vs. Ferguson.

Main Force Marks Time In Italy

LONDON, Nov. 13 (AP)—A team of 12 U.N. truce observers with white jeeps took up posts in the 600-yard wide no-man's-land in the Suez Canal zone today. They will keep tabs on the cease-fire between British-French and Egyptian forces pending arrival of the new U.N. police force.

Advance units of the police army still marked time at their assembly point at Capodichino in Italy. Postponement of their departure was officially ascribed to technical difficulties, but there remained the possibility that snags had developed over limits Egypt has placed on their operations.

Reports from airline officials in Cairo said there was a possibility the U. N. troops would be flown directly into the Suez Canal zone instead of to Cairo as had been planned.

A French Foreign Ministry spokesman served notice that France expected the police force to occupy "at least symbolically" the entire canal zone, not just the northern end held by the British and French.

France

He said France was "confident" U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold would insist on enforcing all U. N. General Assembly decisions, and that these included the reopening of the blocked canal and liberty of passage for ships of all nations.

By the account of the Middle East News Agency, Egypt's national news distributor, President Nasser insists that the international army have no duties in the Suez Canal zone, that British-French forces withdraw from Port Said immediately, and that the U. N. force be confined to policing the 1949 armistice line between Egypt and Israel.

These conditions ran head-on into the stated objectives of the British, French and Israelis.

The British press called the Egyptian conditions "impossible." Some papers said President Nasser was trying to dictate terms as though he had won a war.

Canada's Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, commander of the new force, said at Rome there were many "outstandingly important problems" relating to his new task to be sorted out. He thought some would require "long high-level diplomatic negotiations."

Hammarskjold was due in Rome Wednesday for talks with Burns but he delayed his departure from New York for 24 hours because of the Hungarian crisis. He now is expected in Rome Thursday.

Hammarskjold and Burns will look over the 1,000 Norwegian, Danish, Colombian and Canadian soldiers expected to be assembled by then.

Good Morning!

A kiss is a peculiar proposition; of no use to one, absolute bliss to two, the small boy gets it for nothing, the young man has to steal it and the old man has to buy it. It is the baby's right, the lover's privilege and the hypocrite's mask. To a young girl it means faith, to a married man hope and to an old maid charity.

Hungary Uses Strike As Weapon Against Russians

BUDAPEST, Nov. 13 (AP)—This nation of 10 million turned to an almost complete general strike as a weapon against the Russians today.

The only active resistance in Budapest against Soviet arms was reported on Csepel Island in the Danube. There thousands of workers have turned two factories into armed fortresses.

With their armed revolt almost crushed, workers turned to a weapon long barred in the Communist state—the general strike.

The transport system was crippled. Industries were closed down. Thousands of citizens wandered aimlessly around Budapest streets.

Many poked about in the ruins of homes for lost possessions.

Plants

At most industrial plants workers guarded gates to prevent strikebreakers from entering. White collar workers who went to their jobs quit to join the long lines of persons waiting for food.

Then returned to desks late in the day to check out.

Sandor Gaspar, Hungary's trade union president, appealed over Budapest radio for an end to the general strike.

Gaspar said trade unions "identify themselves with the demands of the Hungarian people that our country become independent and sovereign and that Soviet troops be withdrawn."

Gaspar said the workers "have sufficient grounds to be suspicious toward promises."

U.N. Secretary Makes Move

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Nov. 13 (AP)—Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold disclosed tonight he has approached Communist Hungarian authorities on the possibility of his personally shepherding U. N. relief supplies into war-torn Budapest.

Hammarskjold, who delayed a Middle East trip for 24 hours to concentrate on rushing U. N. supplies and representatives to Hungary, talked with Hungarian Foreign Minister Imre Horvath.

A U. N. spokesman said Hammarskjold offered to go personally to Budapest to get the U. N. relief program in motion. The spokesman said Hammarskjold hoped to see Horvath again, apparently to find out what answer he has received from his home government.

Texas Senator Worries Over Future Moves

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13 (AP)—Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, discussing American foreign policy, said today "the real question is where we go from here."

The Senate's Democratic leader added that "apparently we are still searching for a long-term policy and we will not be able to breathe easily until it is found."

He told a Capitol Hill news conference he considers the use of U. N. police forces in Egypt as only a temporary expedient to prevent the outbreak of large-scale war.

Concerning the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, he said:

"NATO remains the best method by which the free nations of the North Atlantic community can unite for their common defense while maintaining their independence."

Mood

From the mood of his colleagues, he went on, he expects the Democratic majority in the new Senate will cooperate with and "seek to solve problems rather than create them."

Sen. Morse (D-Ore.), who has opposed some aspects of the administration's foreign policy in the past, told reporters today he is more optimistic than ever before about achieving "a truly bipartisan foreign policy." He said he intends to help work one out.

Morse is a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, which received a secret briefing on international affairs yesterday from administration leaders.

Johnson leaves shortly to attend NATO's parliamentary conference in Paris.

220 Attend Third Annual Conference

A GROUP of 220 teen-agers, teachers and driver education supervisors attended the third annual Teen-Age Traffic Safety Conference at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College yesterday.

Howard DeNike, college driver training and safety education expert, said the conference was a "decided success" last night. Among the schools represented were the following:

Liberty High School, Bethlehem; Scranton Central, West Scranton and Scranton Technical High Schools; Stroudsburg High School; East Stroudsburg High School; Hanover Township High School; Delaware Valley Joint School at Matamoras; Pocono Township High School at Tannersville; Pen Argyl Joint High School; Leighton High School and Blue Ridge High School at New Milford.

A panel discussion highlighted the program, DeNike said. These were the members: Alberto Domenico, Leighton driver training supervisor; Henry Richline, and Frank Nittman, Liberty High School instructors; Ralph O. Burrows, principal, East Stroudsburg High School; Alfred Munson, Stroudsburg High School; Gerald Coyne, supervisor of driver training and physical education in the Scranton schools; Robert Reese, Scranton Central driver education supervisor; Lawrence Wile, Pocono Township principal and Alfred Wolford, Pen Argyl High School driver training supervisor. ## Viewing the Screens

NEXT WEDNESDAY at 7 p. m. Santa Claus will make his 1956 television debut in the "Thanksgiving Eve Parade of Light" from Newark, N. J., on Chs. 6 and 7. Heralding the arrival of Santa will be fireworks, clowns, 14-foot tall animal heads, gigantic floats, balloons, marchers and many surprises. Among the celebrities in the parade will be Emmett Kelly, the king of circus clowns; William Bendix as the "Merry Maharajah" and Nanette Faurey as "Alice in Wonderland." Following on Thanksgiving Day will be the annual parades from New York, Philadelphia and Detroit, starting at various hours to be announced later.

Matinee Theater at 3 p. m. today on Chs. 3 and 4 presents "A Candle in the Dark," the true story of Louis Braille, a blind Frenchman. Braille discovers a method whereby those who cannot see will be able to learn to read by touch.

At 7:30 p. m. Eddie Fisher sings on ch. 3 and 4 and Rosemary Clooney on ch. 11, with guest star Ernie Ford. At the same time two youngsters move closer to college scholarships and world travel on "Giant Step" on ch. 2 and 10, and on "Disneyland" on ch. 6 and 7. Fess Parker and Jeff York travel "Along the Oregon Trail," a story of pioneering in America's Old West.

Many of us remember Laraine Day from the Dr. Kildare movie series, and tonight she is back in a similar role on "Woman Who Dared" at 9:30 on ch. 6 and 7. This is the story of a woman doctor whose dreams of serving her neighbor in a little western town of the 1870s are shattered by the prejudice against her for daring to enter a male profession.

Bishops Defeated Armed Forces Move

Opposition Wins By Decided Margin

By Paul Carlson
POCONO MANOR—A proposal to elect a bishop for the Armed Forces yesterday was overwhelmingly defeated by the Episcopal House of Bishops now in session here.

The opposition was led by the Rt. Rev. Henry I. Louttit, bishop of South Florida and chairman of the Armed Forces Division of the denomination's National Council. The presiding bishop, the Rt. Rev. Henry Knox Sherrill, concurred after the vote was taken.

One prelate jokingly remarked that a bishop for the Armed Forces would have to be a rare combination of Buck Rogers, Superman and the Archangel Gabriel.

In addition to expressing the belief that it would be too much to expect one man to oversee a world-wide jurisdiction, the House noted that the Church already has an American bishop in Europe, and that the resident bishop in areas where troops are concentrated can be of more value than a prelate assigned to the Armed Forces.

Requests for the House to consider such a bishopric came from the Armed Forces Commission of the Diocese of Milwaukee, and from the 46th annual Convocation of the Missionary District of North Texas. Similar petitions were received earlier from the House of Deputies.

In other action yesterday, the House adopted three recommendations to establish a new missionary district in Central America and to elect a bishop for that jurisdiction.

In rejecting the proposal to establish a bishopric for the Armed Forces, the House opposed the idea of a "military church," and favored a closer integration with the work of the local diocese.

Bishop Louttit said a "free-wheeling bishop" is contrary to all Anglican tradition, which gives to its bishops territorial jurisdiction.

He reported that questionnaires were sent to more than 100 chaplains on active duty. Of the 69 who replied, 40 registered opposition to the proposal.

Those favoring the idea said such a prelate would enhance the authority and prestige of the Episcopal Church in rank-conscious military circles.

These chaplains further appeared concerned that the Episcopal Church should retain its identity on military installations and not become "just another Protestant denomination."

To talk of rank in the case of a bishop, the chairman of the Armed Forces Division said, is to "adopt the mores of the world."

"I don't like the notion of trying to throw on weight around," Bishop Louttit added. "I am reminded that Our Lord said He came not to be ministered unto, but to minister."

In his remarks following the decisive vote, Bishop Sherrill said he would object to having the issue decided at any future time by a vote of the chaplains. He noted that they were not in a position to "view all the implications."

In promoting the proposal to elect a bishop for the Armed Forces, the Armed Forces Commission of the Milwaukee Diocese contended:

"The Church's work in the Armed Forces is far below a desirable standard and considerably below that of other religious groups. There is no question that this serious deficiency can be remedied by having a bishop of our Armed Service."

However, Bishop Louttit denied these contentions.

At an evening session, the House adopted three recommendations presented by the Rt. Rev. Anson Phelps Stokes, Jr., bishop of Massachusetts, on behalf of the Committee on Foreign Missions.

The first recommendation proposed that the House accept ecclesiastical jurisdiction of Guatemala, El Salvador and Honduras, relinquished earlier by the Provincial Synod of the Church of the Province of the West Indies, and the Republics of Nicaragua and Costa Rica.

The second recommendation proposed that the House establish a new missionary district of Central America embracing these five countries. The third recommendation was that the House proceed to elect a bishop for the new jurisdiction.

All but the last recommendation were adopted without much debate.

The Rt. Rev. A. Hugo Blankingship, bishop of Cuba, protested that an American prelate should not be elected for the new missionary post without first getting the opinion of Latin American churchmen.

Engineering Major Topic Of Discussion

REGULAR MONTHLY meeting of the Industrial Management Club of Monroe County was held last night at the Penn-Stroud Hotel. William Gorton, president, was in charge of the meeting. Lewis Leffler was in charge of the program and introduced Ed Telling, Line Material and James Giffillan, Ronson, the speakers. They both discussed manufacturing engineering.

Telling said engineering today must keep abreast of new products, and new methods of manufacture which are constantly changing. Engineers, before placing products in production, must first see that it can be manufactured at a price which is lower than any competitive field and still in quality with competition.

Giffillan said that engineering is constantly improved by experience in attempting to make and market a better product. To manufacture a product a trial run must first be made in a plant in order to see if it is to meet all the requirements and can be made on a fluctuating wage scale.

The speakers showed a film giving the various stages of procedure in rating production. A second

Now Is No Time To Play Politics With Legislative, Executive Branches Split

Governor Leader is faced with pretty much the same problem as President Eisenhower in that both face a hostile legislative body when the new Legislature and the Congress convene next January.

It appears Mr. Leader will be up against the toughest task in trying to win majority support for his legislative program.

During the last session of the General Assembly, it is recalled, Mr. Leader had the backing of a Democratic House but had to battle a Republican-dominated Senate, where many of his fiscal and tax policies were under constant fire.

Come January, his position in relation to the Legislature will be even more untenable. The GOP will be in control of both House and Senate, so any hopes the Governor might have entertained for pushing through the Leader program in the next biennium will turn on his success in selling his liberal ideas to a conservative-minded Legislature.

The prospect is none too bright, it would appear, since Governor Leader is being boomed by the Democrats for bigger things in state and national politics in 1958 or 1960, and the Republicans would like very much to scuttle those dreams before they become realities.

Even so, the Republicans through their control of both the House and Senate have an equal responsibility for passing legislation that will be in the best interests of the majority of Pennsylvanians. Their hopes of recapturing the governorship and other important offices in 1958 will ride on the type of program they sponsor.

Mr. Eisenhower is confronted with a tough job, too, in winning approval for his program. However, judging from his experience with the last two sessions of Congress, it is expected that his "middle-of-the-road" policies will meet a wide, general approval with lawmakers of both parties.

To be sure, the President will face much more than token opposition from the Democrats, who will control both Senate and House, and will not have the unanimous backing of his own party in all matters. But he will have ardent supporters on both sides of the aisle on a number of important domestic and foreign policy measures.

Monroe County, as elsewhere in Pennsylvania, will keep one eye on Harrisburg and the other on Washington come next January. The day-to-day happenings are expected to provide plenty of news copy as the legislators attempt to hammer out acceptable programs. Seldom has the need for compromise been so evident.

The public demands that now is no time for politics. Let every lawmaker and our chief executives resolve to come up with the best measures that are humanly possible to fashion. Then, and only then, will progress be achieved.

Health Insurance For Aged

Pennsylvania doctors are concerned about the health insurance problems of persons past 65.

The point seems to be that after retirement a man often loses the hospital and medical protection now generally prevalent in working years.

So a committee of the Pennsylvania Medical Society proposed a voluntary system under which employer and employee would contribute to a fund which would take care of health insurance after retirement.

Marion B. Folsom, U. S. secretary of health, welfare and education and a pioneer in Social Security plans, says there is a real need for this.

The Pennsylvania doctors tossed the idea to their national organization, the American Medical Association, with a request that the AMA get back of a workable plan. We hope doctors in other states will prod the AMA on this proposal, and that a workable plan can be developed.

Press Agent Better Paid Than Librarian But Which Is More Valuable To College?

It is difficult to understand why our colleges and universities should expect to be able to employ competent men and women to teach the youth of this country on inadequate pay. The average annual pay for faculty members in the United States, according to the National Education Association, is $5,243 which is about $100-82 a week and that is not take home pay. This average includes the highest salaries so that there must be many which have a take home pay of under $50 a week.

To get this salary, most of these men and women have put in at least five years of study after high school, and most have Ph. D.'s which means more years of work. The average pay for a college president, whose functions, apart from scholarship, are not unlike those of a corporation president or a high echelon public official, is $11,314 a year. There may be additional compensations such as a beautiful but for some reason unusually badly heated house, an automobile and the fringe benefit of a pension.

Money, of course, isn't everything, but teachers marry and have children and are expected to read lots of books and magazines and to be specialists in different subjects. It is not to be wondered at that so many of them are dissatisfied. A man who knows how to make an H-bomb cannot earn a decent living at his trade, to say nothing about earning as much as a funny-face that appears on television to advertise a hair spray or the top of a cigarette—one that will not give you cancer of the lungs if you smoke two packs a day for 20 years.

The trouble with college education in the United States is that too much money goes into buildings and too little is left for brains. After all, a learned man can inspire youth in a tent or sitting on the stump of a tree, or in a little red schoolhouse. Some students measure the worth of a college by its country-club atmosphere which is not good enough for an education. I was talking to a girl recently who said that she had majored in economics; so I thought that we might have a discussion on the difference between classical economics and the stuff which the Keynesians teach to our young. Poor thing! She only got a good grade in that course and of Ricardo she apparently knew almost nothing except that he and Adam Smith were old fogies. I wanted to ask her if she thought that they had voted for Herbert Hoover, but forbore.

She reminded me of the young fellow who had heard someone say that "George Bernard Shaw wrote 'The Quintessence of Ibsenism'" and thought it was a play because Shaw was a playwright. I wanted to tell him that Shaw also wrote a lot about Richard Wagner who was a German and that that proved that Shaw was a Nazi—but I forbore. Good grades apparently are unrelated to thinking in some of these places where the professor worries how he is going to pay for baby's shoes, the price of which constantly goes up despite the fact that the aforesaid professor teaches economics in a School of Business.

When there is so much shouting about the training of scientists and engineers, there ought to be a little interest in who is going to do the training, not only of those who devote themselves to the polytechnic, but also those who are of the university, which is a place for an access to universal knowledge. Surely the underpaid will be conscious of their financial disabilities and if they are entrained to teach philosophy or the social sciences, they are likely to feel that they have been proletarianized. When the average pay for Deans of Women, the moral guides for your daughters, is $5,200 a year, but for press agents, euphemistically called Directors of Public Relations, is $6,000 a year, there is something wrong with the wage scale and the sense of proportion.

A press agent may be a good guy and he may be able to get the college president's name in the papers, with a picture yet, but is he really worth more than a head librarian?

It is not that money alone counts; it is that money is needed to live in this world.

The Once Over

—by H. I. Phillips

A LETTER TO IKE

Dear Mr. President:

You've won a second term by a landslide and with the campaign and speechmaking over, all Americans, regardless of party, have a special message for you. It is this: Get all the relaxation you can and forget all those cracks about playing golf. The burdens of a President are always terrific and rarely more backbreaking than today. You've got to take time out, whenever possible, for a little diversion and most folk will not feel critical if they hear you are getting in a little fun between harassments and ordeals.

They know the all-important thing is your health. They want you to stay in the pink. Republicans and Democrats alike realize you will be under a strain such as few rulers in history have known and they are hoping you can get a respite now and then, with or without golf bags. They elected a man, not an ox or army pack-horse. Their greatest fear now is that you will fail to ease up often enough between fresh world problems.

A lot of people fear that all those sarcastic cracks about you not "minding the store" may have gotten under your skin and that you may be so sensitive that you will go all-out to be the iron man, on the job 24 hours a day and no time off for good behavior. They think you may revert to your old pre-repair pit routine of trying to attend to details better left to subordinates. Don't do it, Ike. Cut the dinners, cornerstone layings, dedications and minor burdens like poison. The really big problems will be rough enough. They would tax the strength of a man of thirty-five who had never been sick in his life and had just won an award as "Mr. Ajax."

You're a rugged battler who has never learned to take it easy. With you it's been the old cry, "On the double." But you have got to be in shape for the big ones, now, Ike, and conserve your energies when minor issues are involved. (I wish your doctors would give you quite so much rope. They should talk turkey to you and drop the attitude that any man can be after two tough illnesses.) To stay well you will have to get in plenty of relaxation. Not too much golf, because it is always hard for a golfer to know when to stop. Especially if he has had no three-putt greens.

And easy on the White House audiences, midnight oil, golf course, hamburgers, correspondence, prolonged press conferences, minor ceremonies, etc. In short stay well. Few things are more important to America and to the world.

Yours,
Elmer.

The Nobel Peace Committee could find nobody to whom to award the peace prize this year... That's odd... We had an idea anybody on the Brooklyn Dodgers was entitled to it on the strength of the last two or three games... Reverting to the failure of the Nobel Peace Committee to find a winner we hear the group couldn't get to the meetings because of the heavy firing, and at times had to take cover from the ultimatums... Dog Hammarskjöld gets $40,000 a year tax free as Secretary of U. N. and has a Park Avenue home paid for by the organization... Tito hasn't managed to say a word of sympathy for Hungary... He seems like one of the best friends who ever worked against our side...

Democratic Practices Applied In The Home

"If we are going to have democracy, why not start right at home?" You couldn't see any loophole, so you said sure, why not? "And what better way to be democratic than have a family club, sort of?"

Whatever your book's learning was, it wasn't enough. You said dandy, let's have a family club. Maybe you did work some odd and off hours down at the campaign headquarters this Fall. Those hours were wasted, so far as teaching you rudimentary politics. Before you could say meeting called to order, one of the kids had the thing on wheels and you were running to catch up with the bandwagon. There was a president elected and Robert's Rules of Order were in force before you and your ever-loving life partner could so much as indicate all in favor of.

Friend, you were mouse-trapped in the finer context of the phrase. What looked like the democratic way soon showed up, as despotism—and not noticeably "benevolent" either.

Somehow you thought a family club might bring to light a few of the less desirable traits showing up in the young folks. They seemed to want it that way, "No more Okay, Pop." The little girl (who laps) said, "Teth, father," would sound nicer. You agreed. They voted to fine offenders a penny, deleting "Pop." Okay, they said, was the piece de resistance. You voted "Aye."

With democracy, hoy can you lose?

"The kind of kid I liked to have on a team I was managing," recalls Leo Durocher, "reported late one fall after the pennant race was settled. To test his mettle I put him in to pitch with the score tied in the eighth inning, the bases full, and Stan Musial at bat. 'Take it in stride, son,' I told him, 'and get the ball over the plate. Any questions?'"

Robert S. Allen Reports

Ike Invites Democratic Aid On Foreign Affairs

Washington, Nov. 13—President Eisenhower made a highly significant political statement at his conference on the Middle East emergency with the 23 bipartisan leaders of Congress.

He explicitly invited Democratic cooperation on foreign affairs.

The President made this unexpected proposal in opening the hurriedly-summoned meeting.

"In the past, I have always been able to work with a Democratic majority in Congress," he said, "and I believe there are no reasons why I can't continue to do so. Certainly I know of none on my part."

The legislative chiefs were clearly surprised. But none of them said anything; possibly because the President, continuing to talk, began discussing the critical Middle East situation.

Three other significant matters stood out in the session:

Central Intelligence Director Allen Dulles' disclosure that two British bombers, flying over Syria at the great height of 50,000 feet, were shot out of the sky by un-mistakably Russian jets piloted by Russians.

Acting Secretary of State Herbert Hoover Jr.'s assertion that Arab sabotage of major Middle East pipelines will necessitate the U. S. supplying Europe with large quantities of oil within a few weeks.

Vice President Nixon's unusually active participation in presenting the grave picture to the congressional leaders.

A previous White House conference of this kind, the Californian stated in the background and said little or nothing. On this occasion, he talked three times.

Nixon spoke up twice to give additional information after the President had expressed his views. The third instance occurred while CIA Director Dulles was reporting on Soviet military and political machinations in Syria. Nixon interjected with further details.

Later at lunch, some of the lawmakers commented that the Vice President appeared desirous of letting them know he was fully apprized of what is going on in the ominous crisis.

What They Said—The grim question of possible U. S. intervention was raised by one of the Republican leaders.

"If Russia sends 'volunteers' or other military forces to Egypt and its Arab allies," asked this House chief, "that would probably mean war between Britain and France and the Communists."

"Yes, it probably would," replied the President, to whom the question was directed.

"In that event," continued the legislator, "would we come to the support of our allies with military forces?"

"A decision of that kind would have to be made if and when such Russian intervention occurred," red," said the President, after a pause. "We would have to weigh carefully all the circumstances and consequences before making such a momentous decision."

There was a deep silence for a few moments. Then the President continued, stressing that every effort is being made for a peaceful settlement in the Middle East. Great hope for that is being placed on the UN police force in war-torn Egypt.

"We must make this cease-fire work," declared the President fervently. "Because it is either a peaceful solution or terrible nuclear war. Those are the fateful alternatives that face us."

Admiral Arthur Radford was asked about the logistic aspects of Russia sending combat forces to the Arabs.

"Under the conditions created by the cease-fire," explained the head of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, "Russia now has the capability of putting considerable numbers of troops into Egypt and Syria. But once fighting, which this would precipitate, got underway, the Reds would have great difficulties in getting any type of fighting units into these areas. The British and French would do their utmost to prevent it."

Acting Secretary Hoover emphasized the growing oil shortage facing Europe and the urgent need for the U. S. to meet these requirements.

"The blockade of the Suez Canal and the destruction of a large segment of a major pipeline in Syria," he said, "is creating an extremely serious oil shortage throughout Europe, particularly in Britain and France. We are now discussing arrangements to supply them in the very near future, certainly before this month is out."

The shooting down of the two British bombers was described by CIA Director Dulles as "highly disturbing."

"One of the planes crashed in Syria," he related. "The other was able to crash-land in Lebanon. There is no question these planes were shot down by Russian jets piloted by Russians. There are no Egyptians capable of such a high-altitude attack."

Dulles also warned the Kremlin is exerting great efforts to "transform Syria into a satellite." He pointed out that Syria is a weak and unstable country, and that Red agents have deeply infiltrated its government and army.

A British firm announces it has developed a new type "reverse" radar which enables a ship's skipper to see his craft as others see it. Sounds to us like it must be done with mirrors.

It's the opinion of the man at the next desk that those foreign amateur athletes who are supported by their governments while in training should really be referred to as just "shamateurs."

After Charlton began to hit it big after the bit roles on stage and the bigger jobs in television began to pay off, and he had gone into movies and done things like "The Greatest Show on Earth"—he still stayed there. "It was centrally located," he said in defensive recollection—but then he admitted he was, and always has been, skittish of having too lavish and luxurious a living standard.

"It can run an actor," he said. "Look—I turned down a $10,000, three-day television job this autumn so I could play Mr. Roberts at the City Center for $85 a week. I was able to, because even the two apartments we now have are moderately-priced and I can afford to act for $85 a week, without going into bankruptcy."

My New York

—by Mel Heimer

New York—I cannot say that the acting capabilities of Charlton Heston ever have overwhelmed me; I have to say that I have seen this sort of adulation—to day-dreaming shopgirls and a sea of reticent, one of whom told me that this man has absolutely the nuttiest mouth. I imagine that, decoded, this remark means he is fascinating.

I was impressed today, however, by the mind and manner of Heston—and I felt wistful and sad for him as I listened to him tell of the cold war flat in 46th street between Ninth and Tenth avenues. Mr. H. now must be somewhere in his early 30s, a successful mummer who plays Moses in DeMille's The Ten Commandments here and on the West Coast and owns 1,400 tillable acres in Michigan. However, part of his youth must lie buried deep in the flat in 46th street.

It wasn't really cold water. It had no heat, but it did have hot water. Just sprung from the 11th Air Force, after three years in the Aleutians, Heston bird-dogged the little two-and-a-half-room

Frames Often Times Go Unnoticed

By Jim Riley

Making a frame for a prize winning painting is apparently comparable to playing the role of understudy to a big name Hollywood or Broadway star.

At least that's the way Morgan Hebard, Shawnee-on-Delaware, feels about the situation. Mrs. Hebard, reportedly one of the best young painters in Monroe County, won first honorable mention at the Hazleton Art League show. She was one of three Monroe County entries to win. There were only four prizes in the entire show.

Now Morg is very happy that his wife won the prize—but he thought some mention should be made of the frame. You see, it took Morgan longer to make the frame than it took Nancy to paint the picture.

Morgan also points out that a frame can make or break a picture. Morg—I think you've been framed.

Horatio Hass, state commander of the 28th Division, Stan Siptrouth and their wives have been visiting Pittsburgh for several days. They were scheduled to return home yesterday.

Elizabeth Kane, librarian at the Monroe County Library for the past 29 years, will be honored at tomorrow night's meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club.

Elizabeth is also past president of the BPW and is still an active member in the organization.

Members of the Writers Workshop, an organization which also claims Elizabeth as a member, will be on hand to pay order. Lester Cohen will be guest speaker.

Vic Koch and crew defeated the weatherman in a race on Saturday.

They got plenty of anti-freeze in the Stroudsburg fire trucks before Saturday's first cold spell of the season fell over Monroe County.

Henry Walp will be out of the Veterans Office for a period of time. He suffered a broken heel in an automobile accident Monday morning.

"Hahk" is a patient at the Monroe County General Hospital and would like to hear from his many friends.

Miss Tracy Kresge plans to attend two art shows in Philadelphia tomorrow.

Nancy is a resident of McMichael's.

William Martin, professor at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, recently shot a wild turkey.

Observers have labeled the bird as one of the biggest ever shot in this area.

in their own lives, however. At the same time Menger has, superficially at least, expressed a vocal resistance to any effort to "commercialize" on his experiences with space ships. "All I want to do is tell people about it," he says.

The desire to "tell people" has led Menger to recurrent appearances on a late-night disc jockey program (Long John on Station WOR in New York) and has brought him a guest appearance on the Steve Allen NBC-TV show in New York. On the Allen show, Menger found himself confronted rather noisily now and then by eruptions of laughter from the crowd. Even the mild-mannered, tongue-in-cheek remonstrations of humorist-interviewer Allen failed to drown the audience's apparent misconception that the whole thing was slightly on the satirical side.

He has "gone on the radio" in nearby Carteret. He has talked with reporters from a half-dozen newspapers. He has answered an estimated 300 letters in recent weeks. He has—quite incidentally—fallen a month behind in his work as a sign painter.

Last Sunday cars by the dozens descended upon tiny, track-in-the-road High Bridge. They came from all parts of New Jersey. Some of the visitors said that they had hardly heard of High Bridge before.

Along relatively quiet Route 69, cars were lined up all Sunday afternoon. A garage owner nearby said that there were nearly 70 cars and he had no idea how many people. Most of the people went to the small, brown-wood home of Howard and Rose Menger.

Once inside they listened to a tape recording in which Menger was recounting for a radio interview, his experiences in the past. A little later, he answered questions. Some of the questions were tough. But most of the people who have listened to this 34-year-old man seem to agree that he has the answers. More important, perhaps, they feel that he knows the answers but does not give them glibly or matter-of-factly as a man might who has rehearsed a part in a play. High Bridge, N. J., today has become a vocal community. Almost no one in the town is neutral where the "Menger thing" is concerned.

But, for every dozen men who shake their heads negatively and say: "There's nothing to it," there seems to be one who hesitates a bit and says: "Well, I just don't know."

What has Menger's story done to High Bridge? What about the whole vast body of UFO material which has slowly accumulated in recent years all through America?

In Howard Menger—right or wrong—the Unidentified Flying Object discussion has been given one of its most fervent and idealistic-sounding spokesmen. In his first article in a series, I have attempted to set down Menger's own story concerning his recent experiences. In other stories to follow there will be a discussion of the reaction of High Bridge residents, the affect on other nearby communities and the further story of Howard Menger—man with a mission to Earth.

Seven Districts Reach Unanimous Agreement On Complete Jointure Of Slate Belt Schools

BANGOR—The seven districts, comprising the Slate Belt Jointure, last night reached unanimous agreement on a complete jointure from kindergarten through the 12th grade.

The agreement eliminated a 10 year series of debates and misunderstandings.

The name of the new school system will be known as the Bangor Area Joint School System.

It was also agreed that there will be a complete junior and senior high school building construction as soon as possible at a cost of $3-million or more.

The building will be called the Governor George Wolf High School building.

One of the big items of last night's agreement was a change in the use of the present Bangor High School building. It will no longer be used for high school purposes, but will be converted into an elementary school facility upon the completion of the new high school building.

Another important concession by the original Bangor Area group was that the joint school committee will be composed of 14 members—two from each of the districts.

It was further agreed that the title of the chief school executive would be changed from superintendent to school administrator to comply with the changes in the school code.

The formal signing of the agreement will be held at 7 p.m., Monday in the Washington Township School with each district designating its president and secretary to represent the individual districts.

Immediately following the signing, the formal organization of the joint school board will take place.

Community Chest Drive At $45,929.86

Collections Shown By Divisions

MONROE COUNTY Community Chest reached 62 per cent of its $75,150 quota yesterday.

A report meeting held at the Penn-Stroud Hotel with Ethel West, executive secretary, in charge showed the following collections and pledges by individual divisions:

Resorts — $5,972.29 out of a $7,000 quota; Industrial — $13,495.50 out of a $21,700 quota; Trade — $4,098.50 out of a $13,100 quota; Professional — $7,328.22 out of a quota of $8,950; Public Service — $2,802 out of a $2,950 quota; Organizations — $104.50 out of a $1,800 quota; Stroudsburg — $1,200.80 out of a $1,700 quota; East Stroudsburg — $823.82 with a quota of only $800 or $23.82 over the quota; County — $1,804.23 of a $4,350 quota; Barrett — $8,000 out of a $12,000 quota.

Total amount collected or pledged during the period up to yesterday was $45,929.86 according to Miss West.

The next report meeting will be held next Monday at the Penn-Stroud Hotel. Miss West urged all division leaders to double their efforts during the coming week to make reports as complete as possible by that meeting.

Diabetes Detection Drive Provides Great Service To Residents Of Monroe County

PURPOSE of the Diabetes Detection Drive now in progress in Monroe County is to find the men, women and children who have developed the ailment but do not know it.

This was pointed out yesterday by Dr. J. L. Rumsey, chairman of the week-long campaign being sponsored by the Monroe County Medical Society.

Early detection of diabetes, he said, permits proper attention and thereby helps the individual escape the many serious complications that are associated with neglect of the condition.

(Free tests are being conducted this week for adults and school children.

Dr. Rumsey appealed to all large industries to cooperate in the drive by acting as collection points for bottled specimens of urine brought in by their employees. The Red Cross station wagon will collect the samples at the plants, and at drug stores where they also may be left, and transport them to General Hospital for testing.

In cases where sugar is found in the urine, the family physician will be advised. All information will remain confidential, Dr. Rumsey said. No report will be made in cases where no sugar is found.

Dr. M. J. Leitner, pathologist at General Hospital, is in charge of the testing at the laboratory. Since upwards of 10,000 persons are to be tested, the Medical Society has called upon the Grey Ladies, Senior Women's Club, Stroud Community Club, Medical Auxiliary, Red Cross and nurse to provide volunteer help.

All have responded to the plea, the Medical Society reported, and it is hoped to have all the tests completed by the end of this week.

YMCA Plans Extension Of Efforts To Collect Overdue Pledges From Building Campaign

EXTENSION of efforts to obtain full payment of overdue pledges to the building fund was approved last night by the board of directors of the Monroe County YMCA at the monthly meeting in the new Y building.

During the discussion, in which it was brought out that pledges totaling almost $17,000 are still outstanding, the directors were reminded that the balance of the Kresge Foundation pledge will not be paid until the local pledges have been collected.

The foundation agreed to pay $254,000 to the building fund, matching almost dollar for dollar the money pledged locally. In order to pay all expenses involved in erecting the new YMCA, the directors were faced with a deficit which was met by borrowing money at three percent interest from the four local banks, using the pledges as collateral.

Problem
The association now faces the problem of collecting the unpaid pledges so it can meet the foundation's Dec. 31 deadline for making final payment on its pledge. If the entire amount that is owed locally is not collected, the foundation will contribute only in direct proportion to the sum raised here.

The directors went over the list and agreed to make personal contacts with those who still owe pledges. By this means, the board hopes to be able to collect the full foundation pledge by Dec. 31. In doing so, it will also be saving its $47,000 building fund indebtedness to a point where the interest can be paid off without difficulty, officers explained.

J. Albert Groner, board president, conducted the meeting. During the treasurer's report, given by Merle C. Ostrom, it was announced that $2,000 will be taken from the building fund, which stood at $3,118 as of Nov. 12, and $700 payments will be made to each of the four banks. This will reduce the indebtedness to about $45,000.

John R. Wilson, general secretary, reported the association is now experiencing its busiest season in history. He said 3,125 persons participated in organized activities at the Y last month and an additional 648 belonging to 19 groups not directly affiliated with the YMCA also took part in events held in the building.

He reported great interest in gymnasium, swimming pool and other activities, including youth and adult groups, art, ballroom dancing and public speaking classes.

Expansion
Wilson said the youth committee is to be expanded so it can extend its work to the school level. He reported success in finding capable part-time help locally and through the State Teachers College to direct the physical education program.

Coming events, Wilson said, will include Christmas parties, open house Jan. 1, a family night program and several still in the formative stage. The Mother's Club, he said, had donated $200 to the general fund. E. Holt Wyckoff reported for the membership committee, J. L. Cohen for the building fund, and Edward C. Hess for the house committee.

Stock Market Advances

NEW YORK, Nov. 13 (AP)—For the second day in a row, aircrafts, steels and coppers led the stock market to an advance today.

Key stocks rose from fractions to a point in improved turnover. The market was higher from the start, widened its gains and held pretty well until late in the day when losses cropped up among a number of leading motors, chemicals and oils.

Average
This, combined with the fact that a number of pivotal issues were selling ex-dividend, pared the gain in the averages.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 20 cents to $180.00 with the industrials up 20 cents, the rails up 30 cents and the utilities unchanged.

Of 1,158 issues traded, advances outnumbered declines by 506 to 389. There were 37 new highs for the year and 14 new lows.

Volume totaled 2,140,000 shares compared with 1,600,000 yesterday. Aircrafts continued their rise on increasing profits and the feeling that today's international situation seems to portend no let-up in defense spending, brokers said.

The most active stock was U. S. Steel.

College Play To Open Tomorrow

"THE Philadelphia Story", the former Broadway hit, is the play that is to be presented on the East Stroudsburg State Teachers' College stage on tomorrow and Friday at 8 p.m.

The play, by Philip Barry, presents Barry at the very top of his form, according to the critics. It represents a show that lasted on the Broadway stage for more than a year; it has been presented on the road by leading companies every year since. While in New York, the play was described by the critics as "one of the most delightful comedies seen in many a season." Other critics term the play as "alert and suave," "no little merit," "most satirical," "it's a wow," "most sustained, sparkling, sophisticated, completely captivating comedy," and add in comment, "humile wit and impish twist of situation." It is still unanimously an outstanding hit wherever it plays.

Praise
"The Philadelphia Story" won the acclamation of leading newspaper reviews—"As gay and sagacious comedy combining the best of all possible Broadways." The New York Herald Tribune quoted in review—"It is lively and entertaining, written with all of Barry's graceful wit." "A pleasant comedy about pleasant believable people written in the Barry manner with dialogue that is both smart and polished" wrote the New York News.

Coffee Tins Helpful To Home Painter

EMPTY COFFEE tins are helpful aids to a home painter.

You'll find it an advantage, for instance, to set a quart paint can into a coffee tin. Then, any over-ade drips will be caught in the coffee tin, making it easy to move your paint can from place to place without getting paint on your hands.

If you have purchased a pint can of paint, you'll probably find the top a little small when you dip your brush into the mixture. In this instance, mix your paint thoroughly in its original container, then pour it into the coffee tin to facilitate brush-dipping. After you have finished, pour the remainder of the paint back into its original can and recap it tightly.

Remove Objects For Painting

FOR A GOOD paint job all hardware is removed before painting door knobs, escutcheons, latches, window locks. And lighting fixtures are loosened.

This not only makes a painting job easier, faster and neater when finished, but also give you a chance to clean and polish all metal work.

Furniture Dents Can Be Removed

DENTS IN natural-finish furniture that do not break the fibers can sometimes be raised by a combination of heat and moisture. Cover with several folds of a damp cloth; then rest a medium-hot iron on a bottle cap placed directly over the dent to concentrate the heat.

The heat and moisture will swell the fibers. Several three-to-four-minute applications of the iron may be required. This doesn't always work, but it is worth trying. Deep scratches, gouges or cigarette burns call for more drastic treatment. The first step is to clean out any dirt or wax right down to the bare wood. Use a sharp knife, sandpaper or steel wool. In dealing with a cigarette burn, be sure to cut or scrape away all the charred wood.

Fill Gaps
Fill the cavity almost full with plastic wood. After the plastic wood has hardened, complete filling with stick shellac selected to match the furniture finish. The stick shellac comes in a wide range of colors and shades, so you should be able to get a good match.

To apply the stick shellac, hold it against a heated putty knife blade to soften it, and smooth it over the plastic wood filler, leveling it with the surrounding surface. After the shellac has hardened, trim with a sharp knife or razor blade, sand smooth and wax.

Remove Grease With Detergent

BEFORE REPAINTING a kitchen, any coating of grease that may be present on walls, woodwork or ceiling should be removed by washing with a detergent.

All traces of the compound should then be rinsed off with clear water. Surfaces should, of course, be completely dry before the new paint is applied.

Ladders May Be Made Slip-Proof

TO ASSURE ladder safety, steps or treads of a ladder can be made slip-proof. First, paint each step with a coat of varnish. When the varnish becomes tacky, sprinkle sand or sawdust onto each step. When the varnish dries, the embedded sand or sawdust creates a ladder that will be slip-proof.

Sheer Curtains Prove Less Expensive If Made At Home

IF YOU LIKE THE luxurious look of generously full sheer curtains at your windows you can save money by making them yourself.

Here are some tips from fabric manufacturers on making full length draw draperies from rayon sheers.

For length, measure from ceiling to floor and add 1/2 inch seam allowance for top, and six inches for bottom hems. (Sheer fabrics should have double hems at the bottom so this gives you a hem three inches deep).

For width, allow double the width of the window. If you skimp on this, you will spoil the elegant look. Again for sheer fabric, place double hems in side seams.

Straight
Draw curtains should hang straight with the grain of the fabric, so pull a crosswise thread and cut on this line.

Remove the selvages since they will draw, especially after hanging. Fold the drapery on the machine when you sew. Then its weight will not pull against the needle.

There are pleating devices which will give you perfect top pleats with a stiffened top edge. Remember to allow sufficient stiffening for a center overlap of two inches on each curtain rod.

Let the curtains hang for two or three days before putting in the lower hems.

Step Stool For Children Helpful

A CHILD'S step stool, easily made from a 1 by 8-inch board and a 1 by 2-inch strip, enables the youngster to wash his own hands long before he could otherwise reach the sink.

The overall dimensions of the stool shown are 12 inches high, 14 inches wide, and 14 inches deep. Cut parts to the required sizes. Cut a notch 1 inch deep into the front edge of each long side piece for the bottom step.

Join Pieces

Join the short and long piece on each side with a pair of 1 by 2-inch strips and eight 1 1/2-inch No. 10 flat-head wood screws. Stand the sides upright and secure the steps to the sides with 6-penny finishing nails. The steps can be made flush with the sides or allowed to extend 1/2 inch beyond the sides as indicated in the sketch. The top step overhangs enough beyond the back edges of the sides to cover the diagonal braces. Cut the braces to fit, notch them where they overlap for a tight fit, and attach them with 6-penny finishing nails.

Round all exposed edges and corners, sand the stool, and finish to suit.

GIANT WATER CARRIER — Welder at right joins together the final two cylinders of 239 making up the new steel section of the flow line. This 14-foot-in-diameter tube carries water from Pennsylvania Power and Light Company's Lake Wallenpaupack to its hydroelectric power plant where its energy is converted to electricity through the spinning of the big turbines at the plant. Indicative of the skill of the fabricators and the thorough inspection of the line with a radiographic camera whose gamma rays see through and examine metal, not one defect of any significance was discovered when the new line was placed in service.

Wallenpaupack Power Plant Returns To Normal Operation

PENNSYLVANIA POWER AND LIGHT Company's "minute man" Wallenpaupack power plant sprang back into action recently when water again roared through the turbines, setting the two huge hydroelectric turbine generators in motion. The plant's return to duty marked completion of a five-months-long replacement project during which the lower half of the 14-foot-in-diameter, 30-year-old wood stave flow line from Lake Wallenpaupack to the plant was replaced by a new giant steel tube. The remaining half of the original wood line is presently undergoing tests to determine when its replacement should be made.

The present project began early in June after tests indicated that repairs on the lower half of the line were no longer practical and that the only course of action was replacement.

Installation — During the installation of the steel tube, major overhaul of the generating plant equipment was accomplished and the big valves that regulate the flow of water to the turbines were replaced.

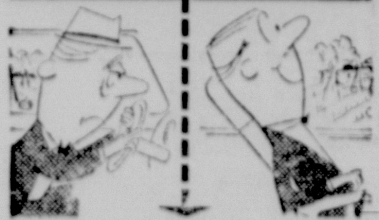

Wallenpaupack plant provides economic, peak load electric power from the water stored in the company's big lake created some 30 years ago. In its planning, the facilities were carefully fitted into the surroundings so that it not only provided the large water storage capacity necessary for the plant, but opened the way for the attractive resort area that it is today. Its peak load designation is indicative of its "minute man" function of supplying large blocks of power on almost immediate notice during those hours when customer requirements for electricity are at their highest.

Newest Buick Yet

WE'VE introduced a lot of new Buicks to the local scene—but never before one as new as this.

Inside and outside, top to toe, end to end—this is the newest Buick yet.

And it's not just new for newness itself—but new in ways that make driving more comfortable, safer and more fun.

You'll see what we mean when you study these gorgeous new Buicks close up.

They're inches lower and stunningly styled from stem to stern—yet each is wondrously roomy inside.

They bring a wide-eyed new visibility of the road ahead with a rakish windshield that adds hundreds more square inches of glass area.

They're new in ride, with a new contour frame chassis that "nests" your going—giving new roadability with a lower center of gravity—yet road clearance is unchanged.

They're new in handling with a new Buick-developed ball-joint suspension that makes steering and cornering easier while it levelizes braking.

But above and beyond all else—these 1957 Buicks are brand new in performance:

—with a V8 engine that's completely new from the crankshaft up, to give you the highest horsepower and compression ratios in all Buick annals.

—with an advanced new Variable Pitch Dynaflo* that brings you such instant response, such smoothness, such a full range of fluid motion in "Drive" that the need for "Low" is all but eliminated.

All this covers only the big advances in the 1957 Buick.

There are other wonderful new things to see—the new safety instrument panel—the new dip-center steering wheel—the lavish new color-mate interiors—the new counterbalanced brake pedals—well over a hundred and fifty new features in all.

As your Buick dealer, we're ready and eager to tell you the full story of these newest Buicks yet—and how easy you'll find it to call one your own. Stop in and see us this week.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

A HEADS-UP DUO—Getting their heads together for this pretty picture are lovely Connie Brethouer and a palomino on the Thunderbird ranch down Tucson, Ariz., way. They're good pals.

SHE'S NEW—Luscious Barbara Lang not only spruces up the scenery, but she also sings like a lark. She's getting ready to face the Hollywood cameras in a movie titled "Hot Summer Night."

MOBILE RECRUITERS—A miniature jeep and trailer help Air Force recruiters in Cleveland "round up" young men for their branch of service. Vehicle is five feet long and powered by a motorcycle engine. The trailer is eight feet long. Sgts. Irvin Roser (left) and Anthony Arch had to jack-knife their way into jeep.

COCKTAIL CUT-UPS—Movie star Gary Cooper and French comic Fernandel while away their time at a Paris cocktail party by playing a game of strength. The aim of the game is to make the other fellow yell "uncle" (or is it "oncle").

Exchanges' grain quotations are put on "big board."

DOLLARS and SCENTS

LIKE A BLOODHOUND, a skilled grain trader uses his keen sense of smell to track down his objective—in this case, wheat and other grains that are clean and vigorous. Such a trader as Ken McCoy in the Minneapolis grain exchange will sniff and feel sample pans of grain and his decision will affect his bid for carloads, which are worth from $1,650 for oats to $5,500 for flax. But, his job also calls for a raucous voice and the business acumen of a Yankee trader. He must watch the "big board" for the latest grain quotations from major exchanges in the U. S. and Canada. Traders in the "pit" offer and bid on future contracts, which grain houses use as a form of insurance, balancing a cash sale today with an opposite contract in the future. Stiff competition assures farmers of the best possible prices available.

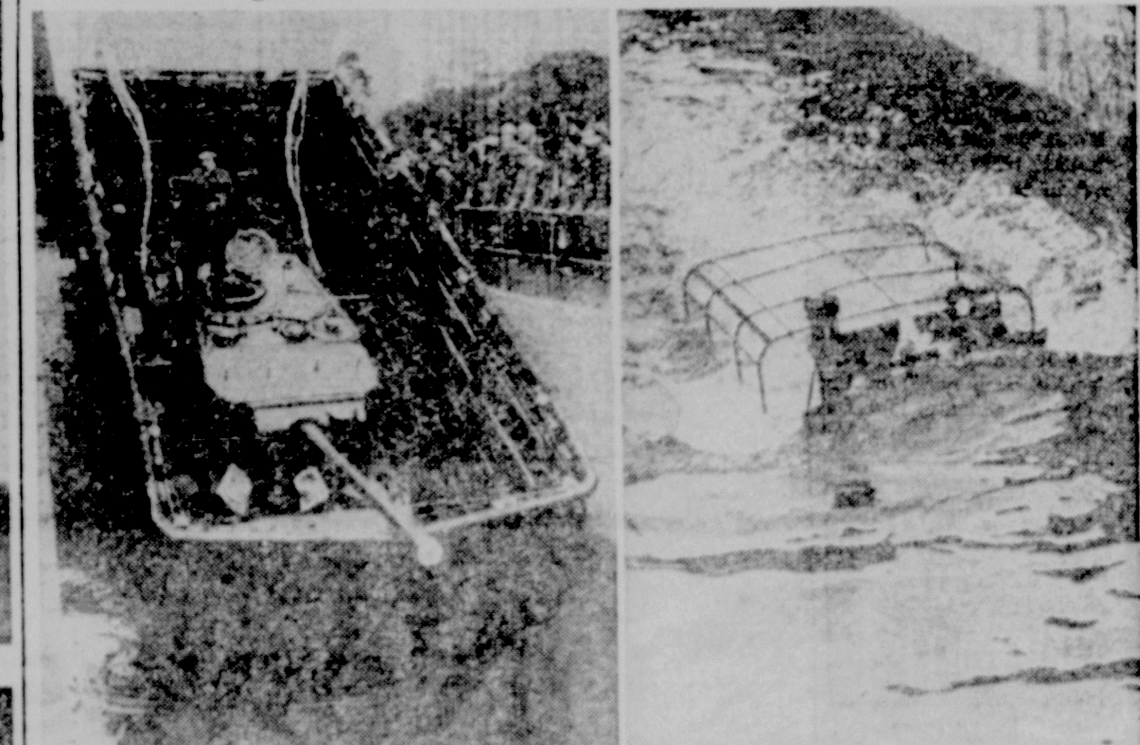

Traders in futures shout their bids and indicate them with special hand signals.

100 Lockers Purchased For School Use

BANGOR—It was reported at the regular meeting of the Educational Association of the Our Lady of Mt. Carmel Parochial School that 100 lockers had been purchased for the high school.

Mrs. Gloria Maso, president, had charge of the meeting. The organization also donated $100 to the fund of the school. A donation of five dollars was made to the Northampton County TB Fund.

Rev. Gennaro Leone, C.M., pastor of the Our Lady of Mt. Carmel Catholic Church spoke on the work of the Ladies of Charity and Sister Superior Ida outlined the method used in the school for report card marking.

Guest Speaker

Guest speaker was Sister Mary Esther of St. Philip and St. James Parochial School of Phillipsburg, N. J., who reviewed the book, "Beginning." Two new members were received, Mrs. Rose Martino and Mrs. Irene Green.

The banner award was presented to the Second Grade, Sister Frances, teacher.

Refreshments for the next meeting will be served by a committee composed of Mrs. Angeline Coppello, Mrs. Marie Capobianco, Mrs. Antonette DeRea, Mrs. Constance DeRea, Mrs. Marian DeRea, Mrs. Theresa DiPierro, Mrs. Lucy DeFranco, Mrs. Katie Diorio, Mrs. Jessie Delassandro, Mrs. Betty DelBacco, Mrs. Lucy Depkowitz and Mrs. Grace Duvo.

Accountants To Feature Meeting

REGULAR MONTHLY meeting of Lehigh Valley Chapter, National Association of Cost Accountants, will be held Friday at the Bethlehem Club, with a board of directors meeting to be held immediately thereafter.

Speaker will be Dr. Robert S. Holzman, professor of taxation at New York University, New York, N. Y., who will talk on "Unintended Tax Disclosures."

Barrett High Students Aid In Drive

BARRETT — Sophomore students of Barrett High School, in conjunction with the Monroe County Medical Society, are starting a drive to find and help prevent diabetes in Barrett and Paradise Townships.

The sophomores have distributed Dreypacks to all pupils in the grade and high schools. The strips of chemically treated filter paper were to be taken home, immersed in urine and left to dry before mailing them to General Hospital, East Stroudsburg, where they will be tested for diabetes.

The test is free and results are confidential, class officers pointed out in calling for the cooperation of all parents.

FOXY PET — Bob Moyer, of McMichaels, brought his tame red fox to Stroudsburg yesterday to outfit it with a leash. The pet, which was born in April, was given to Moyer when it was two days old. The Moyer family fed it baby food until it was able to eat other foods. The animal, shown here with its owner on N. Seventh St., has the run of the house and yard, acts and eats like a dog and is friendly to children and adults. Mrs. Floyd Moyer, Bob's mother, looks at the pet.

Father Of Bangor Minister Dies In Reading Hospital

BANGOR—Oscar G. Brumbach, 90, father of Rev. John C. Brumbach, pastor of St. John's Evangelical and Reformed Church, died Sunday in Berks Heim Hospital, Reading, where he was a patient three years.

Born Aug. 6, 1866, at Oley, Berks County, a son of the late Percival T. and Fyetta (nee Schaeffer) Brumbach, he resided in Reading the greater part of his life. During the last seven weeks of 1950 he also resided in Bangor.

Painter
A painter by trade, his wife, the former Ida E. Clark, preceded him in death Oct. 12, 1950, ending a marital union just three days short of 63 years. He was a member of the local Evangelical and Reformed Church and the last surviving member of a family of nine children.

Three sons, Ed, of Reading; Rev. Brumbach, and Wallace G., of Wyomissing; a daughter, Frances, Mrs. Hans P. Lydskien, of Parsippany, N. J.; two grandchildren; one great-grandchild, and a number of nephews and nieces survive.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at 2:20 p. m., at the Lentz funeral home, Reading. Interment will be in Aulenbach Cemetery, Reading.

Services Held For Mrs. Shook

BANGOR—Funeral services for Mrs. Anna Shook, 69, were held Monday at the Hough Funeral Home with Rev. H. Wayne Peck, pastor of the Belfast Lutheran Church in charge. Interment was made in the St. John's Cemetery. Pallbearers were Donald Shook, Glenwood Fenner, Willis Fenner, Nathan Collins, Loring Collins and Clyde Shook.

Miss Emrick Is Bride Of J. P. Itterly

Bangor—Miss Katherine Joan Emrick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Emrick Jr., of 218 Mes-singer St., Bangor, was married to James P. Itterly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Itterly, of Central Ave., East Bangor, on Saturday at 11 a.m. at Our Lady of Good Counsel Church, Bangor.

Rev. Charles P. Sweeney, C.M., celebrated the ceremony and nuptial mass.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of embroidered nylon over satin, with a basque bodice and bouffant skirt ending in scalloped tiers of embroidered tulle. Her veil of French illusion was also edged with imported lace and held by a plateau cap trimmed in seed pearls and sequins. She carried a white prayer book with a white orchid and streamers of stephanotis.

Miss Helen Smith, of Stockertown, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Another cousin, Miss June Kopko, of Pen Argyl; Miss Betty Fraunfelder, of Bangor RD2, were bridesmaids and Miss Janice Lambert, Bangor, a cousin, was flower-girl.

The maid of honor was in shrimp net, the bridesmaids in aqua. They wore matching plateau caps of sequins and carried bouquets of yellow chrysanthemums and pompons. The flower girl was dressed in shrimp net and carried a bouquet of yellow pompons.

John Emrick, brother of the bride, was best man, and Robert Buzzard and Neil Tucker were ushers. Michael Emrick, brother of the bride, was ring-bearer.

The reception was held at the VFW Home in Meyers Crossing before the newlyweds left for a wedding tour of New York State. The bride is a graduate of Bangor High School. The bridegroom spent two years in the Army in Korea and is employed at the Bangor Paint and Body Shop.

They will reside temporarily at Central Ave., in Bangor, but plan to leave soon for California where they will make their home.

Lees Attend Parents Day At Son's College

Mr. and Mrs. Harold K. Lee, Lackawanna Trail, spent the weekend at Lebanon Valley College, Annville, Pa., where their son, H. Kenneth Lee, is a student. On Saturday they enjoyed a special program of events for Parents Day. In the afternoon they witnessed the Lebanon Valley-Drexel Football Game.

On Sunday they attended morning service at the St. Stephen's Evangelical and Reformed Church in Lebanon where Kenneth is a member of the choir.

Kenneth is a member of the College Glee Club, the Marching Band and Concert Band. Last week he was initiated into the Phi Lambda Sigma Society.

Jr. Crusaders

Bartonville—The Junior Crusaders will meet at St. John's Lutheran parish house on Friday night, Nov. 16, at 7:30, for devotion, business and fun. An illustrated Bible lesson will be presented by Bible Club teachers, Mr. and Mrs. David Ball. All children of the community are invited to attend. Parents are welcome, too.

Special Meeting

A travelogue program was presented by four of the members. Robertina Roan told of her trip to Mexico and Europe, including the private audience she and her husband, Bernard, had with the Pope in Rome. Elsie Swingle gave a report of her summer in Panama and of the popularity of President Eisenhower among the Latin American people, especially evident during the Pan American Presidents' Conference. Mary Hall showed pictures and told of her trip to Norway and Sweden. Katherine McFarland gave a picture tour on "Stone and Flora of England."

A tea was planned in March for senior high school girls interested in becoming teachers.

The intermediate grade parents had a discussion of report cards. The work of the children in many fields was on display and the open house climaxed with a social hour with refreshments served in the kindergarten rooms.

The social committee included Miss Marie Brown, Mrs. Gladys Seese, Mrs. Rose Mekeel, and Dr. Dawson Lamley, principal, and Dr. Nathan B. Meyer.

Hospital Aux. To Decorate At Christmas

The General Hospital Auxiliary will again provide Christmas decorations for the hospital. It was decided at the meeting held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ashton Burrows.

Mrs. Gilbert Barthold and Mrs. William Gorman reported on the meeting of the Northeast Pa. Auxiliary held at St. Joseph's Hospital, Hazleton, on Oct. 17, and relayed an invitation to the local group to join the State Auxiliary.

Mrs. Horace Walters and Mrs. Harry Crouse were welcomed as new members. Refreshments were served, after cards, by Mrs. Burrows assisted by Mrs. Nathan Meyer, Mrs. H. O. Kester and Mrs. William Peacock.

The December 11 meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. George Marsh.

Secret Pal Club

Secret Pal Club of the Women of the Moose will meet at the home of Mrs. David Katz, 14 North Tenth St., Stroudsburg, tonight at 8.

DAR Rummage Sale

Jacob Stroud Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will hold its annual rummage sale on Thursday and Friday at the home of Mrs. Kathryn Bond, 59 North Tenth St., Stroudsburg.

Shawnee Fire Co. Aux.

Shawnee—The Ladies Auxiliary of the Shawnee Fire Co. Aux. will meet tonight at 8:15 at the home of Mrs. Elwood Walter.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

The odds and ends that collect in the bottom of unused vases, between the arms and the seats of chairs, and in apron pockets are often a bewildering lot, and the odds and ends that have collected in my mind are just as bewildering.

There's always the question about where to put the odd buttons, the needle that you use to blow up footballs, the negative from some old snapshot, the piece of wood you mean to glue back on a chair, and a knob that looks as if it came from something important.

Usually I end up with putting them in a box to be sorted more thoroughly at some future time that never comes. So I guess we could do the same thing with odds and ends of information—dump it out without rhyme or reason.

BPWC To Pay Tribute To Librarian

The Business and Professional Woman's Club will honor one of its own members and past president, Mrs. Elizabeth Kane, at their dinner meeting on Thursday night. In honor of Mrs. Kane, who is rounding out twenty years as librarian of the Monroe County Library, the club is inviting members of the Writers' Club to join them in paying tribute.

Lester Cohen, who has had his work published in many media, and who is a member of the local Writers' Club, will be the guest speaker.

The members of the BPWC will bring to this meeting their "Thanks" fund, used to entertain the elderly guests at the Christmas party.

The dinner is scheduled for 6:15 at the Penn-Stroud Hotel.

Milton Mery To Be Wed In Bangor

Miss Helen E. Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Jones, of Bangor, will be married to Milton Mery, son of Mrs. Stephen Mery and the late Mr. Mery of East Stroudsburg, on Saturday, November 24.

They will be married at 2 in the afternoon in St. John's Evangelical and Reformed Church, Third and Market Sts., Bangor. All relatives and friends are invited to attend the wedding.

Open House For Parents At Lab School

Open house was held last night at the Laboratory School on the campus at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College when the parents were shown films of activities of pupils and parents taken in past years, and conferred in the classrooms with their children's teachers and student teachers.

The intermediate grade parents had a discussion of report cards. The work of the children in many fields was on display and the open house climaxed with a social hour with refreshments served in the kindergarten rooms.

Son for Taylors In Virginia

Mr. and Mrs. James Taylor, of Chincoteague Island, Va., announce the birth of a son in Peninsula General Hospital, Salesbury, Md., on November 10. The baby weighed four pounds six and a half ounces and has been named Russell Douglas.

Mrs. Taylor is the former Dorothy Counterman, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Counterman, 60 North Third St., Stroudsburg. The Countermans with Mr. and Mrs. Chester R. Miller, of 89 North Second St., have returned from Virginia where they were guests of the Taylors and of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jester, of Chincoteague, until the baby was born.

Noble Grands Meeting

Past Noble Grands of Rachel Broadhead Rebekah Lodge will meet Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Kathryn Bond, 59 North Tenth St., Stroudsburg.

Supper Thursday

The oyster and ham supper, sponsored by the Eastern Star, will be held at the East Stroudsburg Methodist Church on Thursday night from 5 to 7:30 p.m.

Traveler's Banquet

The banquet of the Travelers Club of the county PO of A camps will be held in Kresgeville, and members were asked to note the change of place.

The Traveller's Club is a left over from the long-ago time when they worked so hard with the national convention of the PO of A was held here.

PROTECTION FOR the new-born is offered through this "isolette" being demonstrated by Dr. Edwin Abramson of the General Hospital at the meeting of the hospital's Anna Logan Society which recently purchased two of them for the hospital nursery as well as four croupettes. Mrs. T. I. Metzgar, Anna Logan president, is shown with Dr. Abramson.

Ann Logans Baking Fruit Cake Now

A visual demonstration of where their money goes and a head start on their first fruit cake project to make more money marked the meeting of the Anna Logan Society of the General Hospital on Monday night at the Stroudsburg Methodist Church.

The society, which recently purchased two isolettes and four croupettes for the nursery at the hospital, heard Dr. Edwin Abramson, pediatrician at the hospital, explain how they were to be used, and saw a demonstration of the isolette.

The isolette is a device designed to provide total isolation for the premature infant and ill new born. It seeks to provide maximum protection: oxygen, high humidity, constant temperature, and isolation from one of the major threats, the infection.

carrying people who care for him. There was a record attendance of more than 50 women at the meeting which began early and lasted late as the members cut up ingredients for their annual fruit cakes being baked this week. Orders may still be given for a limited number of the cakes which come in one and a half, two, three and five pound sizes. Orders should be telephoned to Mrs. Merie C. Ostrom or Mrs. Harry Sutton.

Mrs. Russell Harmon was captain of the team serving refreshments: Mrs. Harry Sutton, Mrs. Laura Thomas, Mrs. Maurice Boogar, Mrs. James Gavin, Miss Marian Leedom, Mrs. Howard Flieger Jr., Mrs. Nelson Beers and Mrs. J. A. LeBar.

McCOBB COLLECTIONS

Paul McCobb, outstanding designer of furniture of timeless beauty, offers a diversified collection that holds its own with fine things of other eras. Good taste is evidenced in his upholstered pieces, all luxuriously cushioned with foam rubber. Bases are of brass or wood, the latter predominantly walnut. McCobb's treatment of cane for cabinets, chairs and headboards is noteworthy.

Noteworthy and newsworthy too, is the beautiful, durable plastic surfacing that you can have installed quickly and economically. You will find it excellent for kitchen walls, counter and sink tops and backsplashes. ## THE Wyckoff SHOPPER

If you've been wondering what ever happened to me, the answer is simple. I've had a vacation... of sorts. It was a vacation if you consider two days of working like mad on a "city wide fashion show" rest... or if you find a visit to the surgeon relaxing... or a day at a Frigidaire meeting, catching a preview of the revolutionary new styles, fun. Actually, the fashion show was stimulating, interesting, and amusing AFTER it was successfully over. The visit with the surgeon was gratifyingly reassuring... and the Frigidaire meeting was a time of good fellowship with eight co-workers, as well as an enthusiastic period of looking ahead to early December when the new SHEER look in major appliances will be unveiled here at Wyckoff's.

The fashion show proved to be like most jumbo undertakings—impossible at first, when you were confronted on all sides by gowns, hats, dresses and coats of every conceivable style and hue, like thousands of tiny pieces to a giant jigsaw puzzle. How could they ever possibly be assembled into one beautiful picture, you fretted? Pondering the notes, you began dubiously to make a move here... another there... and before you knew it, it was done, with here a bit of "That Old Black Magic," there a "Beautiful Lady in Blue," and even a glorious new fabric that takes its name from one of the loveliest melodies, "Tenderly."

That fabric, incidentally, is brand new at Wyckoff's, and must be seen at close range to be appreciated. It is soft as silk to the touch... but has a slightly furled finish, and it goes sumptuously with satin in both our black and beige cocktail-evening dress.

Bernie Whitman did a wonderful job of accompanying the Business and Professional Women's Club show with music that was keyed in more ways than one to the merchandise shown. Our models were lovely—every one of them... and as commentator I should like to thank Millie Everett for the splendid way she kept the show moving by "feeding" the models onto the stage. It took a bit of doing to show some 75 items in less than an hour and a half—particularly when this length of time included intermission and the drawing for door prizes. Never, I have been told, should more than 53 items be shown at one sitting. But where are you going to draw the line when seven stores are participating, and all the merchandise is stunning?

Personally, I think anyone who has spent fifty cents or a dollar to see a fashion show is entitled to an evening of pleasure. Who wants to get dressed for an outing, and find three quarters of an hour later, that there's nothing more to do but go home? My point is proved, I think, by the number of persons who have said, "Your show was just right—not too long, but my money's worth."

It's gratifying too to hear so many comments on the attractive setting. The TWA backdrop for our Parisian scene was secured by Edna Brockman of our Wyckoff Travel Bureau, and the famous airline also sent brochures on dressing for travel, and lipstick tissues, for distribution. If anyone who saw the show is tempted to go to Paris, we suggest a safe, pleasant TWA trip, arranged by Edna. Nor must I forget to mention my two exquisite green orchids (how I love 'em, and I've never had them before!) and the corsages worn by the pretty BFW ushers... all of them made, I understand, by Evans the Florist.

Now, on to the Frigidaire meeting at Philadelphia's Town Hall! I wish I might tell you all about it, but I'm sworn to secrecy until next month, and can say only: If you plan the purchase of a new major appliance, WAIT UNTIL YOU'VE SEEN THE LATEST FRIGIDAIRE. Styling is revolutionary—that's the truth—and it may take a bit of getting used to, like olives or avocado pears. But if you settle for less, you'll be heart-sick—so wait.

Attending the meeting were Harold Albert, Blanche Mackey, and Lloyd Manton, of our sales department; Mahlon Hallett, George Mackey, Bill Possinger, Carl Ingh, and Norman Frisbie of our service staff. As usual, we dined at Trainers' enroute home... but this year Blannie didn't disgrace us. I'd taken an empty Wyckoff bag with me, just in case my pal began collecting blueberry muffins as she did last year. But she was very well behaved. It was Mahlon who really stunned me with that SOUP PLATEFUL of ice cream!

ESSTC Is Still In Running For Grid Conference Laurels

Lock Haven-Mansfield Victor To Decide Martinmen's Fate

EAST STROUDSBURG State Teachers College once-counted-out contender for the Pennsylvania State Teachers Football Conference crown today was given a mathematical chance of sharing the loop title with leading West Chester.

According to figures released by conference statistician Merle Agnello of Johnstown, Pa., the Warriors of Eugene Martin must await the outcome of Saturday's Lock Haven-Mansfield game before the championship is actually decided.

Softball Loop To Reform At Nov. 28 Meet

A REORGANIZATION meeting of the Monroe County Softball League will be held at Veteran of Foreign Wars Home, Stroudsburg, Nov. 28.

Forrest Fabel, county softball commissioner, in making the announcement, said the session is set for Wednesday night and will start at 8 o'clock.

Joe Whalen, who was returned to the presidency of the circuit for the second year, will preside at the meeting.

Will Discuss

Scheduled for discussion will be the size of the league, field sites, player rulings, roster regulations and other business pertaining to the 1956-1957 season.

Sponsors and team representatives of entries during the 1956 campaign and other persons interested in fielding a team in the loop this coming season, are invited to attend.

Trophy For Tucker's

Fabel also announced that a trophy, donated by the Keystone Amateur Softball Association, will be presented to the MCL's '56 champion Tucker Chevrolet at the meeting.

Fabel, who handles the affairs of local county softball, will sit in at a session of the KASA at Altoona Sunday.

Cincy Trades Jabbo, Hurler For 3 Bruins

CHICAGO, Nov. 13 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs today traded outfielder Pete Whisenant, pitcher Warren Hacker and third baseman Don Hoak to the Cincinnati Reds for third sacker Ray Jablonski and pitcher Elmer Singleton.

It was the first deal by the Cubs' new general manager, John Holland.

Jablonski, 30, batted .254 for the Reds last season, hitting 15 home runs and driving across 65 runs. Singleton, 36, a righthander, has been one of the Pacific Coast League's outstanding hurlers for the past five years with Seattle.

Batted .258

Whisenant hit .238 for the Cubs in 102 games this year, while Hoak was a .213 hitter in 119 games. Hacker, a 15-game winner for the Cubs in 1952, this season had a 3-13 mark and a 4.66 ERA.

Bob Scheffing, new Chicago Cub field manager, said Singleton was highly-regarded on the West Coast but that major league clubs have shied from him because of his age. Scheffing managed Los Angeles to the Pacific Coast League title this year.

Hoak via Bruins

Hoak had been obtained from the Brooklyn Dodgers last winter in a deal which sent Randy Jackson to the Dodgers. Whisenant was acquired last spring from the St. Louis Cardinals in a swap for outfielder Hank Sauer.

The Chicago White Sox won its 1956 season series against the Cleveland Indians, 15 games to 7.

Brodie Practically Clinches Major Colleges Pass Honors

By The Associated Press

JOHN BRODIE of Stanford has practically clinched honors as the nation's best passer in major college football although his Stanford Indians now have only an outside chance of reaching the Rose Bowl.

The senior quarterback connected with 19 of 31 pitches for 223 yards Saturday against Oregon State but couldn't avert a 20-19 defeat. The latest figures from the NCAA Service Bureau show Brodie with 110 completions in 195 attempts for 1,368 yards, an unprecedented margin of 36 completions over runnerup Bob Reinhardt of San Jose State.

Lane Choice To Top Ryff In TV Fight

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 13 (AP)—Kenny Lane, a stingy southpaw puncher from Muskegon, Mich., is a 2-1 favorite to defeat Frankie Ryff of New York in Miami's Biscayne Arena tomorrow night and bolster his bid for a shot at the lightweight boxing title.

The fight will be televised nationally (ABC) starting at 10 p.m. (EST).

Lane, the No. 5 lightweight contender, shot up in the rankings after his victory over Larry Bonard, now No. 1, last summer at Miami Beach. He defeated Ludwig Lightburn in his last start here Sept. 19 and has won 43 of his 48 fights.

9th in NBA

Ryff dropped out of the Ring Magazine ratings when Boardman knocked him out June 1 in New York but is No. 9 in the National Boxing Assn. rankings. He started a comeback by outpointing Frankie Ippolito Oct. 22. His only other loss in 23 fights was to Ralph Dupas.

Blasts Brooks For Attitude On Diamond

TOKYO, Nov. 13 (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers today with their ears ringing from new criticism that the New York Yankees "showed more hustle" in Japan last year.

One of Japan's star hitters, Kazuhiko Yamauchi, 24, of the Tokyo Orions, blasted the Dodgers in an interview.

"The Yankees would always try for an extra base on a hit, while some Dodger runners stopped dead," said the man who was mentioned often by Brooklyn officials as one of the few Japanese players with a "major league arm."

Better Aim

Yamauchi, who hit .313 in 13 games against Brooklyn, also credited Yankee batters with "better aim."

"When they (Dodgers) hit, they hit all together," he said. "When they are cold, nobody can hit."

The Dodgers finished their tour in Fukuoka today, flying back to Tokyo after scoring a 3-1 victory with Jackie Robinson and Don Demeter scoring the way.

14-4 Record

The Dodgers' trip ended with a 14-4 record and one tie in 19 games. It was the first time a visiting American major league team had lost more than one game to the Japanese. The players will fly home in two groups, one leaving Thursday, one Friday.

Apostoli Arrested For Drunk Driving

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 13 (AP)—Fred Apostoli, former world middleweight boxing champion now a main event referee, was arrested today on charges of drunken and hit-run driving.

Apostoli, 43 and a tavern owner, was booked on the two charges at city prison and released on $575 bail. Patrolman Sebastian Schiesel said he stopped Apostoli after he had driven through several stop signs.

The officer said he called his station after noticing the side of Apostoli's car was damaged and found the bar owner had side-swiped another car. No one was injured.

NCAA Urged To Develop Toll Video

NEW YORK, Nov. 13 (AP)—Robert A. Hall, former Yale athletic director and former chairman of the NCAA Television Committee, today called upon the colleges to develop immediately a program for dealing with toll television.

Hall, now a director of Skiatron, one of three toll TV systems under consideration for commercial operation, said that some kind of pay-as-you-see television is bound to arrive soon—possibly within a year. The impact of the potential million dollar gains will be terrific and the time to deal with the problem is now, he said.

Made in Letter

The proposal was made in a letter addressed to Clarence P. Houston, president of the NCAA.

College sports now are not on a fully amateur basis because of their dependence on gate receipts, Hall said. If toll TV brings multi-million dollar gains, the results might be "deadly destructive to amateur athletics" unless intelligent controls are applied.

He said surveys indicated that as much as five million dollars might be realized from toll television on a top college football game.

Other Details

Although the NCAA television committees have been instructed for several years to survey the possible effects of toll TV, Hall pointed out they have been occupied with the details of current programs and have not been able to investigate another complex problem.

Form Group To Lend Aid To Minor Ball

NEW YORK, Nov. 13 (AP)—The Major-Minor League Committee appointed to handle a $500,000 fund for the benefit of minor baseball leagues held an organizational meeting today and authorized filing an application for a tax ruling.

The committee said that the creation and use of the fund as authorized by a joint major league meeting in October was subject to the obtaining of a satisfactory tax ruling.

Further Study

It stated that a detailed program for the administration of the fund will be announced when a satisfactory ruling is obtained.

John Quinn of the Milwaukee Braves was elected chairman of the committee and Claude Engberg, president of the Pioneer League, was named secretary.

NCAA Slaps Stiff Bans On Four Schools, Refuses To Lift Curbs On 2 Others

DETROIT, Nov. 13 (AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic Assn. council tonight placed four major schools on probation, banning three of them from participating in all NCAA sponsored or cooperating events for periods ranging from nine months to four years.

Yanks, Landy To Unveil In Preview Meet

By WILL GRIMSLEY

MELBOURNE, Nov. 13 (AP)—Australia's great John Landy stretches his legs competitively for the first time in six weeks and Uncle Sam takes the wraps off his powerful track and field team tomorrow night in another preview of the Olympic Games at suburban Geelong.

Political tension gave way temporarily to sport with the Nationalist Hungarian flag now flapping at the Olympic Village and the Hungarian athletes settled in quarters no more than 60 yards from the Russians.

Interest High

Interest ran high in the preview meet which is to be staged on grass tracks at Kardina Park both because of Landy's test race and the first look at America's record-shattering stars who are heavy Olympic Games favorites.

Landy, world mile record holder who has been bothered by sore Achilles tendons, will run in the two-mile event against Vladimir Kuts, the Russian ace, and other Australians including Dave Stephens, Alan Lawrence and Dave Power.

Not Satisfied

"I am not completely satisfied with my form," said Landy. "I badly need sharpening up. Tomorrow's race shall tell me how I am going."

The race will mark the first meeting of Landy and Kuts, who holds the 10,000 meters and has excellent times in the 5,000 meters. In the Olympics, Landy is to run in the 5,000 meters as will Kuts. Landy also will compete in the 1,500 meters.

U. S. To Taper

The Australians are likely to be disappointed if they expect to see the Americans pull off record performances. Coach Jim Kelly indicated he wouldn't let his men extend themselves in the night meet. Furthermore, the cool weather has not been favorable for training.

The weather continues to have a biting fall chill with occasional showers. It is much more favorable to teams like the Russians and the British who are more accustomed to it than the Yanks who prefer hot sunshine.

Cash Gifts

Among the inducements, the council said, were annual cash gifts, a seven-year medical education for a friend of the prospective athlete as well as a five year unrestricted scholarship.

Ohio State, the council said, was guilty of allowing its "head football coach" (Woody Hayes) to utilize "a private emergency aid fund" for loans to football players.

Emergency Aid

California's probation was leveled because, the council said, two members of the football coaching staff "administered an emergency aid fund," making 16 loans "which averaged approximately $63" over a two year period. The coaching staff members were unnamed.

This brings to four, the number of Pacific Coast Conference schools chastised by the NCAA. All but California were banned from post season bowl games. UCLA and the University of Washington were chastised earlier. UCLA is on probation until Aug. 21, 1959, and the University of Washington until Aug. 21, 1958.

Cites Action

Walter Byers, executive secretary of the NCAA and a member of the council infractions committee which conducted investigations of alleged NCAA code violations, said the council declined to suspend the Miami probation as a matter of "basic policy."

Byers said council policy has been to let the probationary period run its full length. In the case of Texas A&M, Byers said, a report of a new violation has been brought before the council in recent months and the Southwest Conference has not as yet had an opportunity to study the report.

Undefeated STC Girls Home Today

EAST STROUDSBURG girls field hockey team will shoot for an undefeated season today when they take on Ursinus' jassies on Normal Hill. Game time is 3 p.m.

The Warriorettes, winners of four matches, have been tied twice. They are coached by Miss Katherine Griffith.

Another Match

A match between second teams of the ESSTC and Ursinus also will be played today.

Slated to start for the Warriorettes in the varsity game will be Carolyn Emery, Mary Ann Bucher, Joan Chamberlain, Helen Abrams, Patricia Watson, Captain Shirley Neas, Gale Crouthamel, Barbara Hendrie, Sally Hoover, Lorraine Boyd, Carol Sue Underwood, Willa Mae Walters.

Trotters Slated For Hershey Tilt

HERSHEY, Pa. — Basketball's greatest cage circus comes to Hershey Sports Arena tomorrow, when the fabulous Harlem Globetrotters clash with the Washington Generals, one of the nation's leading independent teams, and the Philadelphia Warriors, defending NBA champions, meet the Rochester Royals in an official league game. The NBA contest will lead off the activities, beginning at 8:00 p.m.

Between halves of each game there will be five acts of vaudeville, including performers who recently returned from Europe and South America.

Coach Abe Saperstein has packed the personnel of the current edition of the Trotters with great care. Returning veterans include Clarence Wilson, the great set shot; Leon Hillard, the dribbling marvel; "Handy Andy" Johnson, all-around star; Woodrow Salsbery, 6-foot, 7-inch ace from Texas Southern University; and Charlie Hoxie, 6-5, who was a sensation last year, his first with the Trotters, following his graduation from Niagara, N. Y., university.

of Texas A&M, Byers said, a report of a new violation has been brought before the council in recent months and the Southwest Conference has not as yet had an opportunity to study the report.

THE RECORD

By Bob Clark
Sports Editor

LONG RUNS seem to be the habit more than the unusual on the local collegiate and scholastic front this year.

Starting with East Stroudsburg's State Teachers' Jim Oplinger great record scamper of 101 yards against Cheyney STC Saturday, the immediate vicinity's football fanatics have viewed their share of almost-the-distance jaunts.

Last Saturday also saw Stroudsburg High's Dick Everitt romp 88 yards for a TD with a kickoff return and East Stroudsburg High's Roger Ray bolt 81 yards with a kickoff only to get caught on the Nazareth High eight.

Over the weekend, Bangor High's J. L. Williams ripped 64 yards to a touchdown against Heltown.

Nine days ago, Eastburg's Frank Lupin picked up a fumbled ball and streaked 67 yards to paydirt against Port Jervis.

Friday night, October 26, ESSTC's co-captain Dick Merring raced 98 yards for a six-pointer against the Warriors' perennial jinx West Chester.

Against Mansfield STC on Saturday, Oct. 20, Merring again showed his heels to the pack when he galloped 98 yards with a kickoff for a TD.

Back on Friday night, Oct. 6, East Stroudsburg's Dick Woollayer—a center on Jack Kist's eleven—pulled a short punt and maneuvered 88 yards to paydirt.

Friday, Sept. 28, Merring again broke into the big-run category with a 70-yard TD power blast off tackle against Ithaca College.

Friday night, Sept. 21, lineman Horace Cole of East Stroudsburg High scooped up a mistired Pen Argyl lateral and ambled 63 yards into the end zone.

In the Cavaliers opener with Slatington on Friday, Sept. 14, Frank Lupin swept around end for 61 yards and a touchdown.

From the standpoint of individual thrills we got our share in 1956 and it was the fine, All-American type boy like Merring, Lupin, Cole, Woollayer, Oplinger, Everitt and Williams which provided the spark.

It certainly is great to be an American when such seemingly little things can mean so much to the followers of athletics. We, and the fans, thank you for increasing the speed of the pulse. For no better reason would we rather have the momentum stepped up.

Going into the traditional pre-Turkey Day and "The" Thanksgiving Day battles we have a 701 percentage. The crystal-gazer upped his norm one point via a 10-4-1 right, wrong and the record last week. Thus far, before the big tough ones, we have 87 right, 37 wrong and 7 ties.

This Saturday we like East Stroudsburg Teachers to wind up a good season with a win over Kutztown STC. The Warriors hampered by injuries the past three weeks should go against the invaders in the best shape in over a month. They would like nothing better than to hand Coaches Eugene Martin and George Ockershausen a gift of a 7-2 season. Believe the Warriors got it wrapped up all ready.

In other games we like Lafayette over Lehigh and Moravian over Wilkes.

Will Seek Ban Of 3 Countries

DAMASCUS, Nov. 13 (AP)—The Arab States will ask the International Olympic Committee to ban Britain, France and Israel from participating in the Melbourne Olympic Games, Syria's Olympic committee spokesman said today.

He said the move will be taken on the grounds that "Anglo-French-Israeli aggression against Egypt constitutes a serious contravention of international ethics, principles and traditions."

The spokesman said Egypt recently suggested the move and nearly all Arab States approved it. The request probably will be made in a joint note to the IOC.

Ex-Eastburg High Lineman Vet In Engle 'Other Platoon'

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa.—Penn State has nailed down its 18th straight winning season, thanks to the surprising play of what Coach Rip Engle likes to identify as "our other platoon."

The reference, of course, is to the eleven reserves who have helped bring the Nittany Lions five wins in seven starts during a season they were expected to finish no better than even.

"Don't get me wrong," Engle amends. "Our starting team is terrific. But without relief, our starters never would get through the schedule. Our other platoon has been magnificent."

Engle admits that he chooses to call his seconds "our other platoon" only because he believes their contributions to the success of the current campaign have been over and beyond the call of duty.

Comprised largely of sophomores, "the other platoon" relieves the starters at regular intervals during a game, and this respite has been credited with keeping the pressure on the opposition at a time when any letdown might be disastrous. The reserve backfield, composed of Al Jacks (Pittsburgh), Bruce Gilmore (Reading), Andy Mocoyini (Bethlehem), and Maury Schleichner (Slatington), has been most effective, and many times during the season was tapped to play behind the first line.

On the line, the main players have been Paul North (Baden), Doug Mechling (Grove City), Romeo Pannozzo (Providence, R. I.) and Ron Markiewicz (Bradford), ends; Bill Wehmer (Turtle Creek) and Clint Law (Downingtown), tackles; Joe Sabel (Shamokin) and Jack Arnst (East Stroudsburg) or Dick McMullen (Beaver Falls), guards; and Steve Garban (Grindstone) or Charles Ruslavage (Coaldale), center.

Editor's Note—Arnst was a star lineman for East Stroudsburg High coach Jack Kist from 1948-52.

"Without these boys," Engle explains, "we never could have kept our starters going at full speed, and victories like those over Ohio State and West Virginia would have been beyond our reach."

The starters, since season's start, have been Milton Plum (Westville, N. J.), Ray Alberigi (Jessup), Billy Kane (Munhall) and Emil Caprera (Turtle Creek) in the backfield, and Les Walters (Hershey) and Jack Farls (Freedom), Jack Calderone (Chester) and Walt Mazur (Tamaqua), Sam Valentine (DuBois) and Dick DeLuca (Monaca), and Dan Radakovich (Kennywood) on the line.

"They wanted to beat us very badly and had a great deal of determination," Robinson said. "We didn't have that much determination. I think that determination is making up for their physical inferiority."

November? "Where in America would you see them at 7 a.m.—in November?" Robinson told students at the Tokyo American school Japanese pro baseball is getting better every year. He described the Japan All-Stars as the equal of any Triple A club in America.

The All-Stars, strongest team ever assembled in Japan, won three of nine contests against Brooklyn.

Determination "They wanted to beat us very badly and had a great deal of determination," Robinson said. "We didn't have that much determination. I think that determination is making up for their physical inferiority."

Pittsburgh Inks Service Returnee

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 13 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates today signed Paul Smith, 25, an outfielder-first baseman, to a 1957 contract. Smith played with the Pirates in 1953 before entering military service. He played in 118 games, hitting .283. A resident of nearby Wilkensburg, Smith was discharged from the service a few weeks ago.

Paparella, Yost Will Speak At Holy Name Meeting Today

TWO OUTSTANDING men in major league baseball will be guests at the St. Matthew's Holy Name Society meeting today at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium.

Joseph (Joe) Paparella, well known umpire in the American League for the past decade, will be the featured speaker.

A late addition to the speaker's list was Eddie Yost, popular third sacker for the Washington Senators of the American League.

Experienced Paparella comes to Stroudsburg with years of experience in the baseball and banquet circuits. Joe began his baseball career as an umpire in the Canadian-American League in 1938. Down through the years on the diamond, the Eynon, Pa., native has amassed a wealth of interesting stories, many of which will be passed along to those attending today's gathering. Paparella, who has worked the 1948 and '51 World Series and the 1948 and '51 All Star games, has his own personal list of favorites in the majors, whom he'll undoubtedly mention tonight.

Returns Yost, according to program chairman Anthony Archer, was added to the list of guests late last week. Eddie, who was approved by popular acclaim at a Holy Name meeting a few years back, returns with more baseball banter today. The Washington third baseman has been mentioned recently as being placed on the trading block.

Any sports fan in the area is invited to attend tonight's meeting which will be culminated with the serving of refreshments.

The Blue Hill Country Club at Canton, Mass., used a powerful commercial vacuum cleaner to remove sand, twigs and pebbles from its greens during the 1956 PGA championship.

Bangor Exchange To Cite Grid Players Today

BANGOR — More than 150 persons are expected to attend the 10th annual football dinner for the squad members of the Bangor Area Joint High School sponsored by the Bangor Exchange Club, in the Blue Valley Farm Show Building today at 6:30 p.m.

The affair, which annually is held prior to the Turkey Day Classic with Pen Argyl High, will embark on something new in the way of a pep rally this year, taking as its theme, "Let's Make It Six In Fifty-Six," in which members of various teams of the past five years will participate.

Toastmaster Marvin DePamphilis will act as the master of ceremonies, a position he has held since the start of the affair ten years ago. Robert Bartlett, president of the Bangor Exchange Club will offer the address of welcome and introduce DePamphilis and the invocation will be given by Harvey J. Miller, chaplain of the Bangor Exchange Club.

Group singing will be led by Earl Kressler with Merle Mabus at the piano. A turkey dinner with all the fixings will be enjoyed, prepared by the Jolly Helpers Class of the Trinity Lutheran Church. Armon M. Williams, former faculty manager of athletics of the high school will introduce the various team captains of the past five years, all the teams that have defeated Pen Argyl in that period of time.

Also On Program Remarks will also be offered by Donald B. Keat, superintendent of schools; Dr. Trevor Williams, high school principal; Granville Evans, head coach; David Pritchard, assistant coach and Paul Wagner, jayvee coach.

Scheduled to speak for the various teams were Harold Nerino and Brooks Young for the team of 1937. This team was one of the great teams in the history of the school. It played ten games and in the first nine was undefeated, untied and unscored on by any opponent until the Turkey Day game with Pen Argyl when it lost 6 to 0 to a mediocre Green and White.

Richard Smith, Thomas DePaolo and Albert Janette members of the team of 1951, that defeated Pen Argyl 19 to 6 will speak first for the six year cycle. In 1952 Bangor won over Pen Argyl 20 to 6 and this team will be represented by Joseph D'imperio and Thomas Williams. Bangor won 6 to 0 in 1933 and this team will be spoken for by Rodney Miller, Jack Finelli and Nicholas Castellucci, all of whom are presently students at Moravian College.

'54 Grid Team Bangor defeated Pen Argyl 21 to 0 in 1954 and this team will be represented by Duane Miller, Louis

Casclano, Gerald Dally and Ralph Stenlake. Last year Bangor won 20 to 6 and the team of 1955 will be represented by Jack Stenlake and Anthony Ruggiero.

The committee in charge is composed of Mr. DePamphilis as chairman, Louis J. Bruschi and George Williams. They have announced that tickets may be secured at Pritchard's Clothing Store and Stetckel's Jewelry until this afternoon.

Louisville Seeks NFL Franchise

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 13 (AP)—A representative of the Kentucky State Fair and Exposition today asked either the Philadelphia Eagles or the Pittsburgh Steelers to transfer their National Football League franchise to Louisville and he did not get a cold shoulder.

Only yesterday, the same Louisville people made an offer for the transfer of the Washington Redskins described by Washington owner George Preston Marshall as "fantastic."

Joseph A. Donahue, treasurer of the Eagles, disclosed the bid made for the Philadelphia club. Owner Art Rooney of the Steelers, here for this Sunday's game with Philadelphia, announced the Louisville effort to get his team.

Quakertown Restaurant Operator Dies

RAYMOND R. TRAINER, operator of a large restaurant in Quakertown and well known to a large number of Monroe Countyans, died Monday at his home. He had been in failing health about a year.

Born in Lehigh 57 years ago, he was a son of the late Robert and Sarah Walp Trainer.

He lived for a time in Allentown and went to Quakertown in 1932. First, he opened a hot dog stand with $365 he had borrowed at 22 percent interest. The loan was secured by his household furniture.

From that beginning, he developed his restaurant business into one of the most widely known in the area.

He belonged to the Mink Pond Club, Bushkill, the Moose and a number of Masonic bodies. Mr. Trainer is survived by his wife, the former Marguerite Albright, a daughter and a son. Private funeral services will be held Friday.

Development

William Schane Services Held
FUNERAL SERVICES for the late William Schane, 63, of Tobyhanna, were held yesterday afternoon at Clark funeral home.

Rev. John Bollier officiated. Interment was made in St. Paul's Reformed cemetery, Swiftwater. Pallbearers were Louis Eggert, Frank Micelli, Joseph Pope and Fred Pope.

Commanding General To Visit Company F Drill Tonight

TERMINING THE NATIONAL GUARD "the backbone of America's defense program on the home front", officials of F Company, 160th Infantry last night urged young men of Monroe County to enlist for "early and efficient" part-time training.

Tonight at 7:30, the company hopes to swear in a number of new recruits during the command inspection to be conducted by Maj. Gen. Henry K. Flack, commanding general of the Pennsylvania National Guard.

The inspection will be held in the Wayne Gymnasium at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, temporary headquarters for the Monroe County National Guard since August, 1955. All present members of the company are required to attend.

Advantages
Pointing out the direct advantages of National Guard enlistment, Lt. Richard Kugler Jr., F Company commander, emphasized that training in the local company allows the young man—particularly those of high school or college age—to receive a major of necessary training while he lives and works at home. Drill nights are held once weekly and the recruit is paid for each drill he attends.

As the recruit progresses in his training he is also permitted to specialize in any field in which he shows ability or for which he has a preference. Because of this, National Guard men enter the Armed Forces many times with a distinct advantage over young men who have had no formal training. In most companies the National Guard soldier is given solid priority over others in training for non-commissioned officer's or officer's posts.

Tonight's inspection will represent a highlight in the short history of F Company in Monroe County. It is this county's newest national guard organization. It was formed after Company G engaged in the most successful recruitment drive in the State last year and earned for local National Guard officers the praise of their superiors.

By FRANCIS DRAKE

FOR WEDNESDAY, NOV. 14, 1956

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—Take ample time to think things over before acting. Don't anticipate what others are going to say; give them the benefit of exercising their individuality. Even if you're sure, contemplate.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus)—Curb your spending and do not take on needless obligations. Conduct and thoughts should be such that you would never be ashamed of them. Get some rest.

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini)—You may be obliged to retrieve, hold back some enthusiasm for the time being. Business or other surprises could disrupt your setup if you don't remain calm during orals.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—It is possible to make advances in personal affairs, matters pertaining to home, family, income and investments now. Get facts first, then act.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo)—Some prospects vague. Success, however, is not possible through mere wishing. You must summarize, study, then act consistently and intelligently to win.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo)—Aspects offer little outside encouragement, though there are many benefits you could follow. The crutch lies in your selection of the right road to take. Fortitude needed.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—Problems, obligations may seem trying in the early hours. But be patient, do not allow anything to sway your better judgment, natural desire to do right. Success is possible.

October 24 to November 23 (Scorpio)—If you are shrewdly alert and care-

CAP To Celebrate Anniversary

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—"A major contribution to the advancement of American airpower," is the way Air Force Secretary Donald A. Quarles describes the work of the Civil Air Patrol, the USAF's civilian auxiliary.

The secretary's commentary on the work of the more than 50,000 civilian volunteers who make up Civil Air Patrol units in some 2,500 communities across the nation came as the Civil Air Patrol looked to the celebration of its 15th anniversary Dec. 1. Walter A. Agee is National Commander of CAP.

"The decade of security through global airpower which our nation has enjoyed is in large measure due to the splendid support the United States Air Force has received from such patriotic and aviation-minded organizations as the Civil Air Patrol.

Program
"Through its aviation program for youth and its operational search and rescue work the Civil Air Patrol has made and continues to make a major contribution to the advancement of American airpower."

The words of Secretary Quarles were echoed by the Chief of Staff of the U. S. Air Force, General Nathan F. Twining, in a recent statement about the CAP.

"We in the Air Force," declared General Twining, "look to the youth aviation program of the Civil Air Patrol to help answer the ever-increasing demand for alert young men and women in private, civil and military aviation."

"With its lightplane operational force," he added, "and its nationwide youth program the CAP is a major element of American airpower. Its volunteer civilian aircrews continue to fly more than half of the hours logged by all participating agencies on Air Force-directed search and mercy missions in the continental United States, Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico."

Gen. Twining concluded by citing the Civil Air Patrol for its "outstanding performance of these missions," and congratulated the members of the Air Force's civilian auxiliary for "reflecting great credit upon themselves and the U. S. Air Force."

Easton Judge Speaks To Church Group

BANGOR—"Part-time use of God-given talents, which may be excused by human judges, will be a poor excuse in the courts of God's final judgment," Judge Carlton T. Woodring, of Easton, reminded some 230 members and children of Trinity Evangelical Lutheran congregation of Bangor Saturday night.

The occasion was the congregation's Sector Project dinner at Blue Valley Farm Show auditorium, which opened with an invocation by Trinity's pastor, Rev. William E. Dennis.

Conducted during the past year in various sectors of the United Lutheran Church in America, the project features a self-analysis by each congregation to compare its current status with its potential of increased sharing in Christ's work when every member "places Christ first."

"The mark of a true gentleman, and lady, has always been a willingness to show appreciation for earthly favors. This should be the mark of a true Christian—his willing response to divine blessings," Judge Woodring asserted, in his contribution to the project's progress.

Merle Mabius, chairman of the project's research committee, reviewed Trinity's history, which began in 1878 with 51 members. He also cited recent figures to show that, of the more than 900 members currently enrolled, less than half give evidence of sharing in the congregation's dedicated work.

John Correll explained how his survey committee arrived at its estimate of the congregation's spiritual and physical growth.

Carl Kressler, general chairman of the project and toastmaster for the dinner, gave the report of the proposal committee, detailing the advancement possible by every member "placing Christ first."

Integrated in the proposal is an estimated $105,000 six-year parish-development building program which, providing for renovation and enlargement of Sunday School quarters, was under consideration before the sector project was adopted.

Chris Schlemmer told of the project's "every-member visitation" which his committee will start next Sunday afternoon and continue through Thanksgiving.

Carl Kressler, publicity chairman, reported that project-explaining brochures, which were distributed to those attending the dinner, will be mailed to all other members of the church this week.

Entertainment consisted of organ selections by Miss Janet Willis and group singing. The dinner was served by Wood's Catering Service of Allentown.

Agriculture Group To Hold Meeting

BRODHEADSVILLE — Annual meeting of the Monroe County Agricultural Extension Service will be held Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the West End Fire Hall.

Highlights of the meeting, according to County Agent A. E. Ifft, will be the election of officers and two talks. Reports will be given by extension representatives.

R. C. Blaney, assistant director of the Extension Service, will speak on "Extension Work" and Miss Volva Steigerwalt, Carbon County, will relate "My Experiences As An IFYE."

Europe

Miss Steigerwalt, a farm girl and a Senior 4-H Club leader in Carbon County, spent six months in Europe as an International Farm Youth Exchange student. She lived and worked with farm families. Her talk will be illustrated by colored slides.

Henry Kreger, president, will conduct the meeting and call for reports from F. L. Wilmoth, treasurer; Mrs. George L. Bush, secretary, and these extension representatives: Miss Margaret MacLaren, home economics; Robert H. Stauffer, 4-H Club work, and Arthur E. Ifft, agriculture.

Each family is asked to furnish a pie or cake for refreshments to be served after the meeting. The ice cream will be furnished by extension workers. The making of coffee and serving of food will be in charge of the West End Fire Co. Ladies Auxiliary.

MR. AND MRS. Dick Hurley and daughters, Pat and Susan, of New York City, were recent guests of Mrs. Hurley's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Hutcheon at Mount Bethel.

Mrs. Raymond Transue is substituting in the fourth grade of the local school for Mrs. Ethel Seeley, who is confined to the Community Hospital in Montclair, N. J.

Miss Sandra Horton, student nurse at the University of Pennsylvania Hospital, at Philadelphia, spent several days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Horton.

The Fidelity Circle of the Portland Presbyterian Church will meet in the social rooms of the church on Tuesday at 7:45 p.m.

Mrs. Carl Kramer and Mrs. Marjorie Snyder will be the hostesses. Mrs. Ernest Courtney, a surgical patient at the Easton Hospital, underwent surgery on Thursday afternoon.

Frank Gardner was a visitor at Scranton on Friday.

G. J. Davies celebrated his birthday anniversary on Friday. Miss Harriett Wagner, clerk in the Portland National Bank, will observe her day on Wednesday.

Just Plain Bad Luck

NEW YORK, Nov. 13 (AP)—Finders-keepers doesn't seem to apply to Pearley Dickens, 40. Last August he uncovered $2,300 from the brickwork of a building he was helping demolish.

The customary 90-day waiting period over, Dickens went to claim it. A police custodian said the building's owners were claiming the money as "abandoned," not lost.
